Welcome to the University of Iowa!

I am excited and proud to lead the University of Iowa into a new era of excellence as its 22nd president. And I am delighted to welcome you to our great institution, whether you are a prospective student wondering what we’re all about, a visitor, a patient, a current university community member, an alum, or anyone else. We thank you for your interest!

It is a great honor to begin my presidency as we prepare to celebrate the university’s 175th anniversary. When Iowa’s founding legislators established the UI in 1847—one of its very first acts—they envisioned an institution that would educate teachers for the new state’s schools as well as professionals for the state’s economic and cultural development. Rising from a handful of faculty, a single building, and a few dozen students in the mid-nineteenth century, the UI today is a world-class, multifaceted institution of higher learning with over 30,000 students, leading-edge research programs, world-renowned creative activity, top-ranked health care, and stellar service to the state and nation.

The Big Ten has been my academic and professional home for most of my adult life, starting as an undergraduate and graduate student at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and, for the past twenty-one years, as a faculty member and administrative leader at the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign and with the University of Illinois System. During my time in the Midwest, I have come to know the University of Iowa as an institution that leads with imagination and innovation, educates with student success at its heart, serves the public with dedication and enthusiasm, and believes deeply in the centrality of diversity, equity, and inclusion. I cannot envision a more remarkable university to lead! I am ready and eager to work with our incredibly talented university community to make life better for everyone who is touched by this institution.

We are at another crucial inflection point in the university’s history as we emerge from a historic global pandemic. Much of my effort will be focused on making sure we keep our momentum moving forward at the same time we remain vigilant about the ongoing COVID-19 situation. The University of Iowa has faced many crises in its history and has always come out stronger. That will remain true in the coming months and years. We have much excitement on the horizon, including a brand-new class of first-year students, the opening of our spectacular new Stanley Museum of Art, a new interdisciplinary space research initiative, an expanded experiential education program, the new Iowa Center for School Mental Health, and much more.

As I don the black and gold and join the Hawkeye family, I very much look forward to collaborating with our university community and meeting with alumni and friends, the citizens of Iowa, our state’s leaders, and anyone who has an interest in this extraordinary institution. I am here to help make the University of Iowa the best it can possibly be. Go Hawks!

Warmly,

Barbara J. Wilson

Introduction

At the University of Iowa, we provide excellence and accessibility in education, conduct groundbreaking research, undertake revolutionary creative endeavor, dedicate ourselves to diversity, and enhance higher education's role in public life. At Iowa, undergraduate, graduate, and professional students find a rich, vibrant, innovative, and affordable academic experience. The University of Iowa is one of the nation’s academic leaders. As we hold onto our traditions and our strengths, we also look forward to a future marked by increasing distinction and new discovery.

The University of Iowa prepares this report to comply with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act. The full text of this report can be located on our web site at police.uiowa.edu. This report is also available at The Department of Public Safety or by mail, upon request.

The University of Iowa has five campuses in Iowa. The main campus is located in Iowa City. The University also has campuses as defined by the Clery Act in Tippie College of Business Cedar Rapids Center, The John and Mary Pappajohn Education Center in Des Moines, Birchwood Fields Learning Center in Davenport, and the Regent’s Resource Center at Lake Okoboji. All policy statements contained in this report apply to all campuses unless otherwise indicated.
The University of Iowa campus is subject to many of the same safety concerns as are experienced in the community in which it is located. To facilitate the prevention of crime on the 1900 acres of university property and monitor the more than 200 University buildings, the University provides professional law enforcement through the UI Department of Public Safety. The department is led by Assistant Vice President and Director of Public Safety Mark Bullock. The department consists of seven divisions: Police, Investigations, Security, Emergency Management, Emergency Communications, Key and Access Services, and Records led by two Associate Directors and a Director of Emergency Management. Located at 808 University Capitol Centre on campus, the UI Department of Public Safety operates separately from the Iowa City Police Department and responds to university interests within Johnson County.

UI Department of Public Safety's police officers are trained and certified by the Iowa Law Enforcement Academy and have full arrest powers to enforce State and local laws, as well as University policies. In September 2022, the UI Department of Public Safety had a total of 45 sworn officers, including 34 patrol officers, three bomb detection K-9's, four lieutenants and five sergeants in the uniformed Police Division. Four investigators constitute the Investigative Division. The department has an investigator assigned to the Johnson County Drug Task Force.

The UI Department of Public Safety maintains jurisdiction of University of Iowa owned or controlled properties, as well as public properties adjacent to or on the University campus. UI Department of Public Safety's police officers have jurisdiction statewide but try to confine their patrol activities to the UI campus and routes in between numerous UI properties. The police officers patrol the UI campus by vehicle, bicycle, and foot patrol.

As part of the Security Division, the UI Department of Public Safety employs full-time security officers, including two supervisors, and part-time student security officers. These security officers are unworn and do not have the authority to make arrests and patrol the UI campus and provide services on and near the campus. They receive annual training in CPR and fire suppression as well as instruction on University of Iowa policies.

Security officers are not sworn officers, but they are responsible for enforcing university policies, and those policies include enforcing violations of the law. Security officers document violations of University of Iowa policy/law and contact local law enforcement agencies to report observed violations of federal laws and state laws.

Full-time security officers receive on the job training from designated trainers and certification as protection officers from the International Foundation of Protection Officers. The Security Division members are required to have extensive knowledge of academic buildings and residence halls located on University of Iowa property.

The Department of Public Safety supports the other divisions by employing nine full-time Public Safety Dispatchers. Dispatchers are required to become state certified within their first year of employment. They are required to operate the National Crime Information Center (NCIC), Iowa On-Line Warrants and Articles (IOWA) computer systems and attend a 40-hour training course at the Iowa Law Enforcement Academy. Dispatchers routinely monitor over 250 fire and burglar alarm accounts, multiple agency radio frequencies, 911 emergency calls, and calls for service using a Computer Aided Dispatching (CAD) system.

Arrest Authority

All sworn police officers in the UI Department of Public Safety have the authority to apprehend crime suspects and formally charge persons with violating Federal, state, and local criminal laws as well as enforcing University policies. Officers with this power of arrest include the director, associate directors, lieutenants, sergeants, and uniformed police officers. Sworn officers associated with the Iowa City Police Department or other law enforcement agencies are called upon by the University from time to time to assist the Department of Public Safety in securing University-owned property. Unsworn security officers and other University security personnel are trained to report observed criminal activity on campus but do not have the powers of arrest.

Officer Training

All police officers in the Department of Public Safety are sworn police officers who have satisfied state mandated training and continuing education requirements. Department of Public Safety security officers and University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics Safety and Security officers receive in-service training to assist the sworn police officers in securing buildings, responding to reports, and identifying criminal violators.

Interagency Relationships

As a recognized police agency, the Department of Public Safety is part of the state criminal law enforcement network. This ensures that the University has access to intrastate and interstate criminal data. In the process of monitoring University property and responding to reports from the public, the Department of Public Safety maintains regular communication with the Iowa City Police Department, which has jurisdiction over property contiguous to campus and apartments and other individual dwelling units in Iowa City. The University also works closely with the Coralville Police Department, where many students reside; the Johnson County Sheriff’s Office, who oversees jail operations; and the State Department of Criminal Investigation. The Director of the Department of Public Safety or his designee regularly meets with representatives from all law enforcement agencies within Johnson County and the county attorney’s office in order to review patterns of criminal activity in Johnson County and discuss crime prevention issues. The University of Iowa does not have written memorandums of understanding with other law enforcement agencies for the investigation of alleged criminal offenses.

The UI Department of Public Safety have interoperable communications with the Iowa City Police Department, the Johnson County Sheriff’s Office, the University Heights Police Department, the Coralville Police Department, the North Liberty Police Department, as well as all other area first responders. All these agencies are dispatched out of the Johnson County Emergency Communications Center. The UI Department of Public Safety’s Emergency Communications Center and the Johnson County Emergency Communications Center operate under a Chapter 28E agreement to provide joint data and communications to local first responders.

UI Department of Public Safety’s Response to Criminal Reports

The UI Department of Public Safety records is every call for service received by the dispatcher. In cases where there is a report of on-going criminal activity, the watch commander assigns patrol officers to the scene. If necessary, UI Department of Public Safety’s administration assigns investigators to conduct follow-up investigations. When there is a reasonable basis to believe that a known individual has committed a crime on campus, a University of Iowa police officer apprehends the person; the arresting officer charges them and refers the case to the Johnson County Attorney for prosecution. In cases where the police officer intends to take the person in custody, persons under custodial arrest are taken to the Johnson County Jail immediately following the arrest and booked. When major case investigations occur, such as possible homicides or serious felonies, the UI Department of Public Safety may elicit the assistance from the Division of Criminal Investigation of the Iowa Department of Public Safety or other local law enforcement agencies. Likewise, the UI Department of Public Safety may assist other local law enforcement agencies in their major cases.

Criminal Data Policies

All University police officers and investigators are required to submit investigation reports and have received specific training in documenting crimes. The DPS administration monitors the department’s response to reports. The Records Division uses information derived from reports to maintain a written file and they create a crime log according to federal requirements. The crime log can be in the lobby of the University of Iowa Department of Public Safety, 808 University Capitol Centre and at:

police.uiowa.edu/crime-log

Administrative Investigations

In many cases where law enforcement charges a university student, faculty, or staff member, particularly in the case of incidents that occur on university property, University officials may conduct a concurrent investigation. When a student is accused of a crime, the Office of Student Accountability undertakes a disciplinary review. When academic instructors are accused of a crime, disciplinary review is the responsibility of the Office of the Provost. When other staff members are accused of a crime, disciplinary review is the responsibility of the employing department, in consultation with the appropriate human resources representative. When persons accused of a crime have multiple roles within the University, multiple offices may be involved in a disciplinary review.

Community Outreach

The Department of Public Safety maintains a full-time Community Outreach Specialist. This specialist maintains a comprehensive crime prevention program that includes presentations, security audits, research, and crime prevention literature. The Department of Public Safety’s Community Outreach Specialist is available to all faculty, staff and students. They are certified in various crime prevention strategies and Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) with an emphasis on campus crime prevention. Educational presentations are available upon request at no cost. Presentations and informational materials include Alcohol Awareness, Personal Safety and Self-Protection, dealing with disruptive persons, identity theft information, and Project

ID/UIV designed to discourage theft and promote registration of student owned valuables. Our department is active with social media, and we continually post information onto our sites: information includes Personal Safety & Self Protection, Hawk Alert, and various events. Please visit us on Facebook and Twitter through our home page at police.uiowa.edu. For these and other crime prevention services please contact the Crime Prevention Specialist at (319) 335-5043.

Firearms

The Iowa Administrative Code prohibits faculty, staff, students, and visitors from possessing weapons on the University of Iowa campus. University of Iowa police officers are armed and exceed the Iowa Law Enforcement Academy’s training requirements.

Fire Safety

The Fire Safety Coordinator maintains a comprehensive university fire inspection and prevention program, acts as the university liaison with state and local fire officials, assists with fire safety inspections of university buildings, enforces fire safety directives. The Fire Safety Coordinator collects and prepares related documentation for dissemination to key personnel, researches and enforces all applicable codes, standards, and laws to ensure that the university complies and serves as a member of the Fire Safety Advisory Group. If you need fire safety information, please contact the coordinator at (319) 335-5389.

Additional Services Provided

In response to reports of a fire or medical emergency, the UI Department of Public Safety’s Emergency Communications Center notifies the Johnson County Joint Emergency Communications Center for fire fighters and ambulance service. Emergency medical care is provided at all hours at the University of Iowa Hospitals & Clinics. The University provides or otherwise supports post-emergency and post-crime counseling services for students, staff, and faculty members. Among the departments which provide such services are University Counseling Services, the Rape Victim Advocacy Program, Faculty & Staff Support Services, Student Health, and the University of Iowa Hospitals & Clinics. In addition, the Johnson County Attorney’s Office maintains a full-time Victim Witness Coordinator who assists students, staff, faculty, and other citizens who are crime victims during and after the criminal prosecution.

Daily Crime Log

The daily crime log is available to the public at the lobby the UI Department or of the UI Department of Public Safety located at 808 University Capitol Centre in Iowa City from 8:30 a.m. -4:30 p.m. or of Public Safety’s website at: police.uiowa.edu/crime-log

Threat Assessment Program

The Threat Assessment Program is dedicated to the early identification, assessment and management of incidents and behaviors that threaten the safety and well-being of the university community.
The University of Iowa established the Threat Assessment Program in 2008 in response to the Iowa Board of Regents' Comprehensive Safety and Security Policy (Chapter 11), which includes a charge to provide comprehensive threat assessment and management services. Additional information about the program can be found in Chapter 32 of the University Operations Manual.

Iowa Sex Offender Registry

The federal Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act, enacted on October 28, 2000, requires institutions of higher education to issue a statement advising the campus community where law enforcement agency information provided by a State concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained. It also requires sex offenders already required to register in a State to provide notice, as required under State law, of each institution of higher education in that State at which the person is employed, carries on a vocation, volunteers services or is a student.

In Iowa, convicted sex offenders must register with the local sheriff's office of the county of their residence. For more information on the Iowa Sex Offender Registry program please see:

Safety on Campus

The Importance of Reporting Crime

To maintain a safe environment for work and learning, the University supports a fully staffed professional police agency on campus, provides facilities for storing criminal information, and stations monitors in critical areas of campus. Because the cooperation of ordinary citizens is also essential to the safety of the campus, faculty, students, and staff members are instructed and encouraged to report crimes accurately and promptly to the UI Department of Public Safety or the appropriate law enforcement agency in the event they receive criminal or emergency information, even if the victim of a crime elects or is unable to make a report.

As citizens of the community, the University urges all University students, faculty, administrators, and staff to participate actively in the criminal prevention process. It is essential that when faculty, staff, students, or visitors know of a crime on campus, they should immediately report it so, the appropriate officials can determine if an emergency notification or a timely warning to the community should be issued. Members of the community are helpful when they immediately report crimes or emergencies to the University of Iowa Police and/or Administrative Offices of the University for the purposes of including them in the annual statistical disclosure and assessing them for issuing a Timely Warning Notices, when deemed necessary.

All local police departments remain in operation 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. This includes the University of Iowa Police, the Iowa City Police Department, the Coralville Police Department, and the Johnson County Sheriff’s Office.

The UI Department of Public Safety patrols the main UI campus, the Aspire Apartments at West Campus, Oakdale Research Park, and the Lake MacBride Nature Area in northern Johnson County.

How to Report a Crime on the Main Campus in Iowa City

Contact University of Iowa Police at (319) 335-5022 (non-emergencies), dial 9-1-1- (emergencies). Any suspicious activity or person seen in the parking lots or loitering around vehicles, inside buildings or around the Residence Halls should be reported to the UI Department of Public Safety for assessment for a timely warning notice and inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics disclosure report.

The UI Department of Public Safety has jurisdiction over the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, but the hospital has its own Safety and Security officers who are unworn and unarmed but provide security services to the main hospital. For incidents in the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, contact UIHC Safety and Security at (319) 356-2658 or by going to their office at 0082 Roy Carver Pavilion.

a sexual assault or rape should occur, staff on the scene, including the Rape Victim’s Advocacy Program (RVAP) and Title IX and Gender Equity (TIXGE) will offer the victim a wide variety of services.

Accurate Reporting

All members of the University of Iowa community are encouraged to report all crimes and emergencies accurately and promptly to the University of Iowa Police and the appropriate law enforcement agencies.

Voluntary Confidential and Anonymous Reporting

The UI Department of Public Safety encourages anyone who is the victim or witness to any crime to promptly report the incident to the police. Because police reports are public records under state law, the University of Iowa Police Division cannot hold reports of crime in confidence, therefore there is no procedure to report crimes on a voluntary confidential basis. However, the UI Department of Public Safety accepts anonymous crime reports for inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics through our website at: police.uiowa.edu/police/report-crime.

If you are the victim of a crime and do not want to pursue action within the University system or the criminal justice system, you may still want to consider making an anonymous report. The purpose of an anonymous report is to comply with your wish to keep the matter confidential, while taking steps to enhance the future safety of yourself and others. With such information, the University can keep an accurate record of the number of incidents involving students, determine where there is a pattern of crime with regard to a particular location, method, or assailant, and alert the campus community to potential danger.

Crime Alerts or "Timely Warning Notices"

The Decision-Making Process for a Crime Alert

When the Director of Public Safety or their designee receives a report of a crime, it is reviewed to determine if there is a serious or continuing threat to the campus community. In the event a crime is reported, that in the judgment of the Director of Public Safety or their designee constitutes a serious or continuing threat to the campus community that has occurred on or within the UI Clery Geography (On Campus, Non-campus & Public Property) but does not rise to the level of a campus emergency, a campus wide crime alert will be issued in the form of a "crime alert" email.

Crime Alerts are typically issued for the following Uniform Crime Reporting Program (UCR)/National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS) crime classifications:

- Murder/Manslaughter by Negligence
- Aggravated Assault (cases involving assaults among known parties, such as two roommates fighting which results in an aggravated injury, will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis to determine if the individual is believed to be an ongoing threat to the larger University community)
- Robbery involving force or violence (cases including pick-pocketing and purse snatching will typically not result in the issuance of a Timely Warning Notice, but will be assessed on a case-by-case basis)
- Rape and Fondling are considered on a case-by-case basis depending on the facts of the case, when and where the incident occurred, when it was reported, and the amount of information known by the Director of Public Safety. In cases involving sexual assault, they are often reported long after the incident occurred, thus there is no ability to distribute a "timely" warning notice to the community. All cases of sexual assault, including stranger and non-stranger/acquaintance cases, will be assessed for potential issuance of a Crime Alert notice.
- Major incidents of Arson
- Other Clery crimes as determined necessary by Director of Public Safety, or their designee in their absence.

Reports filed in this manner are counted and disclosed in the annual crime statistics for the institution.

As a result of the negotiated rulemaking process which followed the signing into law, the 1998 amendments to 20 U.S.C. Section 1092 (f), clarification was given to those considered to be campus security authorities. Campus "Pastoral Counselors" and Campus "Professional Counselors", when acting as such, are not considered to be a campus security authority, and are not required to report crimes for inclusion into the annual disclosure of crime statistics. As a matter of policy, they are encouraged; when they deem it appropriate, to inform persons being counseled of the procedures to report crimes on an anonymous basis for inclusion into the annual crime statistics. However, they are not encouraged to inform persons being counseled of the procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion into the annual crime statistics.

The rulemaking committee defines counselors as:

- Pastoral Counselor - An employee of an institution, who is associated with a religious order or denomination, recognized by that religious order or denomination as someone who provides confidential counseling and who is functioning within the scope of that recognition as a pastoral counselor.
- Professional Counselor - An employee of an institution whose official responsibilities include providing mental health counseling to members of the institution’s community and who is functioning within the scope of the license or certification.

Information about the UI Department of Public Safety and crime reporting is distributed to staff at these locations and staff will inform victims of their reporting options. If victims wish to report crimes, counselors will be available to assist them in reporting crimes to local law enforcement officials for inclusion in the annual crime statistics. Crime statistics are derived from crime reports received by the respective law enforcement agencies and administrative departments at the University, but they do not include privileged counseling information known to these resources.

RVAP maintains comprehensive statistics on sexual assaults in eight counties (Cedar, Des Moines, Henry, Iowa, Johnson, Van Buren, and Washington) surrounding the Iowa City area, as well as receiving calls from across the state through 24-hour hotline, including cases where victims have chosen not to report to law enforcement authorities. RVAP aggregate statistics are communicated to DPS for inclusion in this annual security report annually.
The Director of Public Safety or his designee will develop the crime alert and issue it to the community by mass email. The mass email will be sent to all University of Iowa community members at their uiowa.edu email address with the pertinent facts and details of the crime known to the UI Department of Public Safety and, if relevant, any suspect information and suggestions for protective measures a person could take.

Confidentiality: The Clery Act requires the names of victims be withheld as confidential from the crime alert and alerts are issued in a timely manner that will aid in the prevention of future similar crimes. The institution is not required to issue a timely warning with respect to crimes reported to a pastoral or professional counselor.

Emergency Response & Notification Procedures - Main Campus in Iowa City

Emergency Operations Plan

The Office of Emergency Management within the Department of Public Safety maintains an Emergency Operations Plan that outlines responsibilities of campus units during emergencies. This plan outlines incident priorities, campus organization and specific responsibilities of units or positions. University units are responsible for developing emergency response and continuity of operations plans for their areas and staff. Campus emergency management provides resources and guidance for the development of these plans.

The Emergency Operations Plan for the University of Iowa is known as the Critical Incident Management Plan. This plan describes the emergency response procedures for the University. A complete copy can be found here: uuniowa.edu/critical-incident-plan/.

Response to Emergencies

In the event of an emergency, public safety resources should be contacted immediately. For all locations in Johnson County, 911 calls and texts are answered by the Johnson County Emergency Communications Center and routed to the appropriate police authority. In addition to dispatching UI Police officers, additional resources such as emergency medical services, and/or fire responders will also be dispatched based on the situation. All UI Department of Public Safety police officers and security officers are certified to administer emergency first aid, cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and are trained in the use of Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs) which are carried in marked police vehicles and located throughout the campus. All Public Safety Dispatchers are Emergency Medical Dispatch Certified to give lifesaving instructions over the phone while units are responding.

For incidents taking place on campuses outside of Johnson County, 911 should be contacted and the specific local public safety resources will be deployed.

Emergency Telephones

Outdoor telephones with a direct line to UI Department of Public Safety's Emergency Communications Center and marked "Emergency" are located at various points on University of Iowa owned property. In addition, several indoor telephones are available for emergency use. Visitors to campus are encouraged to use the telephones which have been installed in each residence hall near the main entrances, at various points in University Hospitals & Clinics and other facilities across campus.

Emergency Communications and Notifications

The University of Iowa Department of Public Safety provides a comprehensive, campus-wide system of emergency response. In the event of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of the campus community occurring on campus is confirmed the Department of Public Safety, or designated administrator for satellite campuses, will determine the appropriate systems to be used to deliver the emergency notifications message. The determination of which communication tools will be utilized will be based on the nature of the emergency, and the surrounding circumstances. Target notifications to specific buildings or areas of campus may be used where the impact of the situation may be limited.

Emergency notifications may be sent to the entire campus community if/when the situation has the potential to affect a large portion of the campus, or emergency notifications may only be sent to specific buildings or areas of campus in situations where the impact of the situation may be localized. The Department of Public Safety, or designated campus administrators will confirm the threat and evaluate the available information about the situation and will determine the appropriate areas of campus to be notified. Whereas emergency notifications may be sent to the entire campus community when the situation has the potential to impact a large portion of the campus. Ongoing evaluation will take place to determine if additional emergency notifications are warranted, to include if the area of notification should be expanded or additional methods should be utilized.

If an emergency notification is necessary one or more of the following methods may be used:

- University of Iowa home web page: uuiowa.edu
- University of Iowa Emergency web page: e.uuiowa.edu
- University of Iowa Email
- Text and voice message
- Building Alarm/Speaker Systems
- Vehicle Public Address Systems
- Outdoor Warning System
- Digital Electronic Signage
- Desktop and other classroom computer pop-up alerts
Hawk Alert Emergency Notification System

The Hawk Alert system is used to notify the campus community of confirmed threats to health and physical safety in emergency situations. Depending on the incident, the Hawk Alert system can provide a variety of communications methods to the campus community. Hawk Alert is a multi-modal, all hazards emergency notifications system. Based on the available information, the Department of Public Safety, or other designated satellite campus administrators, will determine which method or combination of methods should be deployed. Because events/emergencies are unique, the messaging may also be unique to provide appropriate information and directions to the recipients.

All University affiliated persons are assigned ‘hawkid@uiowa’ email addresses and their aliases are automatically enrolled in the Hawk Alert system. It is important for UI community members to update their settings, see: hawkalert.uiowa.edu/.

While the University of Iowa emergency web page is the primary source for updates on emergency situations, any of the above methods may be used to provide additional information that may be helpful to promote safety or to respond to the situation.

Email, Text Messages and Voice Calls

Hawk Alert allows the Department of Public Safety to send recorded and/or electronic emergency messages (“Hawk Alerts”) to UI students, faculty, and staff by phone and email (all at once), using contact information from the University’s enterprise directory (updated via MyUI or Employee Self Service). While all methods may be activated at once, each method can also be used independently.

The Department of Public Safety also may use a mass mail system to send other types of notifications, including emergency notifications, timely warnings, etc., to all students and employees.

All University of Iowa students and employees have a uiowa.edu email account. Access to uiowa.edu email system is accessible to any account holder on and off campus. Text and voice receipt methods are determined by user preference while users are unable to opt-out of email delivery.

Building Alarms/Speaker Systems

The University can broadcast information in buildings equipped with a specific type of fire alerting system. Not all buildings have this function. This method may be used in conjunction with other methods or used independently to notify a targeted population.

Vehicle Public Address Systems

The Department of Public Safety may use vehicle equipment to provide initial notification to those in specific exterior locations and/or to provide additional directions to target populations located outdoors.

Outdoor Warning System

The Outdoor Warning System is comprised of siren towers located throughout the main University campus. While predominately used for weather related emergencies, the system is equipped with multiple siren tones and equipment for both automated and live voice broadcast. The Outdoor Warning System permits University of Iowa officials to provide crucial information about emergencies to the campus community. Except for routine testing, the outdoor system is only used when an emergency condition exists on campus and as deemed appropriate for the situation. During severe weather conditions, the system will be activated by the Johnson County Emergency Communications Center based on National Weather Service issued polygon designations and designated zoned criteria determined but the Johnson County Emergency Management Agency. The Department of Public Safety can operate the campus components of the system independent of Johnson County. Except for routine testing, the outdoor warning system is only used when an emergency condition exists on campus and as deemed appropriate for the situation.

Digital Electronic Signage, Desktop and Computer Pop-up Alerts

Hawk Alert allows officials to display emergency notifications on computers and digital signage using software on computers across campus, where installed. As a component of the Hawk Alert system, the activation of these messages can occur simultaneously with other methods, when selected.

University of Iowa Websites

An emergency notification can be displayed on the University of Iowa homepage, uiowa.edu. The Department of Public Safety can also provide information and situational updates to the campus community and general public via the emergency webpage, e.uiowa.edu.

Social Media

To interface with modern trends of communications, the Department of Public Safety may provide immediate emergency information via social media platforms.

UI Department of Public Safety Twitter account will serve as the primary social media source although others may also be used:

Twitter.com/Uiowa_Police

Media Outlets (Television, Radio, Print)

The Department of Public Safety, in collaboration with the University Office of Strategic Communications, may provide advisories to the media when requested or through formal media advisory and/or news releases.

Relevant information may be provided to the media to help ensure that the campus community and public are informed about the emergency while also preserving and maintaining public safety operations.

Campus Emergencies

When, in the professional judgment of the Director of Public Safety or their designee, a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to health or safety has been confirmed, an emergency notification will be immediately sent without delay. The UI Department of Public Safety will take into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the notification system, unless issuing a notification will, in the judgment of the first responders (including, but not limited to: the Department of Public Safety, local police, and/or the local fire and Emergency Medical Services), compromise the efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

The UI Department of Public Safety is responsible for confirming emergencies with the assistance of other University Administrators, local first responders and/or the National Weather Service. The UI Department of Public Safety will attempt to contact every member of the UI community through the contact options selected by each person in their Hawk Alert settings, unless other targeted notifications are determined more appropriate. Some examples of campus emergencies include tornado warnings, violent incidents, and hazardous material incidents.
Severe Weather Procedures

The University of Iowa Department of Public Safety maintains close communications with the Johnson County Emergency Management Agency as well as the National Weather Service in Davenport, Iowa. According to the National Weather Service, the University of Iowa is officially StormReady. This designation confirms the commitment of the University of Iowa to severe weather preparedness. The criteria involved in obtaining this designation includes having methods to receive and communicate about severe weather as well as engaging community members in education. The University of Iowa is one of nearly 300 colleges and universities nationwide to hold the StormReady designation:

www.weather.gov/stormready/university.

When the National Weather Service issues an applicable severe weather warning, that is likely to impact campus(es) in Johnson County, the Hawk Alert system will be activated. Additionally, the outdoor warning system will be activated for applicable warnings.

Information Regarding Campus Emergencies

As emergency situations are dynamic, individuals seeking confirmation of an emergency or having questions regarding any emergency notification should not contact the UI Department of Public Safety unless they have pertinent information about the emergency in progress. Contacting the department unnecessarily consumes resources that need to be used to handle the situation. For more information about an emergency, information will be released via the UI home page when it is available.

Annual Testing of Emergency Response

An evacuation drill is coordinated by the UI Department of Public Safety and in partnership with University Housing and Dining, at the beginning of each academic year for all residential facilities on both the main campus in Iowa City and the Lakeside Lab, Regents Resource Center at Lake Okoboji. At least three subsequent drills are coordinated each academic year for all Residence Halls. Students learn the locations of the emergency exits in the buildings and are provided guidance about the direction they should travel when exiting each facility for a short-term building evacuation. The UI Department of Public Safety does not tell residents in advance about the designated locations for long-term evacuations because those decisions are affected by time of day, location of the building being evacuated, the availability of the various designated emergency gathering locations on campus, and other factors such as the location and nature of the threat. In both cases, emergency personnel and Department of Housing and Dining staff on the scene will communicate information to students regarding the developing situation or any evacuation status changes.

The purpose of evacuation drills is to prepare building occupants for an organized evacuation in case of an emergency. At the University of Iowa, evacuation drills are used to educate and train occupants on issues specific to their building. During the drill, occupants 'practice' drill procedures and familiarize themselves with the location of exits and the sound of the fire alarm. In addition to educating the occupants of each building about the evacuation procedures during the drills, the process also provides the University an opportunity to test the operation of fire alarm system components.

Evacuation drills are monitored by the UI Department of Public Safety and the Department of Housing and Dining to evaluate egress and behavioral patterns. Reports are prepared by participating departments which identify deficient equipment so that repairs can be made immediately. Recommendations for improvements are also submitted to the appropriate departments/offices for consideration.

The Decision-Making Process for Campus Emergency Notifications

The Director of the UI Department of Public Safety, or their designees, will:

- confirm the emergency,
- determine the content of any message to the campus community,
- determine the appropriate segment or segments of the campus community to receive the notification, and
- issue appropriate warning(s) without unnecessary delay, in response to an emergency.

These individuals will determine the appropriate emergency actions, if necessary. Dispatchers within the Department of Public Safety assist with the activation of the siren systems and the issuance of emergency notifications. They receive training to issue messages and test the message system throughout the year. For weather related emergencies a Hawk Alert will give the expiration time of the notification by the National Weather Service and may not have a follow up Hawk Alert message. Other Hawk Alert messages will have a follow up message. More information may be available by visiting the University's emergency website at e.uiowa.edu. Members of the larger community, such as parents or neighbors of the University, may receive emergency information by visiting these websites.

If there is an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on campus, an institution must follow its emergency notification procedures. An institution that follows its emergency notification procedures is not required to issue a Crime Alert (Timely Warning Notice) based on the same circumstances; however, the institution must provide adequate follow-up information to the community as needed.

Students receive information about evacuation during their initial floor meetings and during other educational sessions that they can participate in throughout the year. The Residence Hall staff members are trained in these procedures as well and act as an on-going resource for the students living in residential facilities.

The UI Department of Public Safety conducts announced and unannounced drills and exercises (tests) each year and conducts follow-through activities designed for assessment and evaluation of emergency plans and capabilities. The UI Department of Public Safety coordinates announced, and unannounced evacuation drills each semester, as described above, to test the emergency response and evacuation procedures, and to assess and evaluate the emergency evacuation plans and capabilities. Each test is documented and includes a description of the exercise, the date and time of the exercise, and whether it was announced or unannounced. The campus publicizes through a mass email a summary of the emergency response and evacuation procedures via email at least once each year in conjunction with a test (exercise and drill) that meets all the requirements of the Higher Education Opportunity Act.

At least once a year, the University tests the emergency response and evacuation procedures at a time when most of the students, faculty, and staff are expected to be present on campus. Both Hawk Alert and the UI Outdoor Warning Systems are tested at least annually. The Hawk Alert test is an announced test so faculty, staff and students will receive emails and press releases as well as a published summary of these tests for the Main Campus, Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, and the Lakeside Lab at Lake Okoboji. The University does not do any unannounced testing of this system.
Students at the Cedar Rapids campus have access to the Hawk Alert system that is located on the main campus; however, community members at the Cedar Rapids campus should pay attention to local warning sirens and mass notification systems that are managed by Linn County Emergency Management Agency. Individuals can sign up for emergency notifications at the following link:

www.smart911.com/smart911/ref/req.action?pa=LinnCountyIowaAlerts

Hawk Alerts will not be issued for weather systems that are affecting the Cedar Rapids campus but not the main campus in Iowa City.

Notification and Response to Emergencies

In the event of an emergency, the local public safety response agency should be contacted immediately, including in the case of fire and medical emergencies. To facilitate a prompt response in emergencies, 911 telephone service is in effect for the entire county and should be utilized to ensure the appropriate response agencies are notified to respond.

Non-Emergency Situations

Reports should be directed to the respective police agency that has authority to file criminal charges in the geographic area in which the crime was committed.

Campus Emergencies

Since the Tippie College of Business Cedar Rapids Center is separate from the main campus, the building administrator is responsible for the following:

- confirming an emergency in the center
- determining the content of any message to the campus community,
- determining the appropriate segment or segments of the community to receive the notification,
- issuing appropriate emergency notification(s) without unnecessary delay, in response to an emergency, and
- providing updates to the persons affected by the emergency.
- notifying the University of Iowa Department of Public Safety

Follow up information may be viewed by visiting the University's emergency website at e.uiowa.edu. Members of the larger community, such as parents or neighbors of the University, may receive emergency information at the same website.

As emergencies are dynamic, individuals seeking confirmation of an emergency or having questions regarding any emergency notification should not contact the public safety agencies unless they have pertinent information about the emergency in progress. Contacting the department unnecessarily consumes resources that need to be used to handle the situation.

Evacuation Procedures

If an evacuation of the Tippie College of Business Cedar Rapids Center is necessary, one should locate the nearest stairwell and exit the building. Please see Evacuation and Relocation Procedures for more information.
Students at the Birchwood Learning Center have access to the Hawk Alert system that is located on the main campus; however, community members at the Birchwood Learning Center should pay attention to local warning sirens operated by the Scott County Emergency Management Agency as well as building fire systems. Students and employees can sign up for local mass notification at:

www.smart911.com/smart911/ref/req.action?pa=ScottCountyIA

Hawk Alerts will not be issued for weather systems that are affecting the Birchwood Learning Center but not the main campus in Iowa City.

If an evacuation of the Lakeside Lab: Regents Resource Center at Lake Okoboji is necessary, one should leave the building or campus immediately using the safest available evacuation route. Please see Evacuation and Relocation Procedures for more information.
Evacuation and Relocation Procedures

General Evacuation Procedures

At the sound of a fire alarm or if you are instructed to evacuate, leave your space immediately and proceed to the nearest safe exit, and leave the building. If you are the first to recognize a fire situation, activate the alarm, evacuate to a safe location using the nearest safe exit, and notify the local public safety agency by dialing 911.

- Evacuate the building immediately upon notification (evacuation is mandatory).
- If you discover the dangerous conditions, call 911 immediately upon reaching safety to report the fire or other conditions and provide additional information as available.
- Use a fire extinguisher only if safe to do so and you have been trained.
- In the case of fire, do not use the elevators. If elevator usage is allowed under other conditions, reserve usage for those who may require additional assistance, such as persons with disabilities.
- In the case of fire, stay low if confronted with smoke. Check closed doors for heat before opening.
- Assist injured persons, if safe to do so and/or notify emergency responders of the medical emergency.
- Assist individuals who may need assistance, if safe to do so. Notify emergency responders of their location if they are unable to completely evacuate the building.
- Meet with other evacuees at the established evacuation location, if safe to do so.
- Report any hazardous conditions to public safety officials.
- Do not re-enter the building until authorized to do so by emergency personnel.

On main campus, transportation of persons shall be coordinated with appropriate Department of Public Safety and Parking & Transportation personnel for the purpose of evacuation and relocation of persons threatened by or displaced by the incident. A temporary shelter or facility such as Burge Hall, the Iowa Memorial Union, the Field House, or Carver Hawkeye Arena will be selected if needed.

At satellite campuses, local public safety agencies with applicable assistance and coordination from UI Department of Public Safety will direct the evacuation and relocation of persons threatened by or displaced by the incident.

Evacuation/Rescue Plan for Persons with Disabilities

Emergency conditions can occur at any time, and no one plan can cover every emergency condition or the limitations presented by various disabilities. Even though emergency personnel are usually available to assist with evacuation, this may not always be the case. Individuals with disabilities will need to decide based on the unique circumstances they are presented with at the time of the emergency. People with concerns that would make independent evacuation difficult are encouraged to make alternative plans and arrangements in advance which will increase the likelihood that they will be able to exit a building safely in the event of an emergency. Individuals are encouraged to discuss evacuation/rescue needs with the designated Building Coordinator(s) for facilities they routinely frequent. Supplementary assistance and coordination may also be available through the Offices of Faculty and Staff Disability Services or Student Disability Services. You may also contact DPS-OEM@uiowa.edu if further assistance and/or coordination is needed in planning or preparing for emergencies.

Every individual should quickly become familiar with their area by locating exits, stairwells, elevators, emergency equipment, fire alarm activation stations, and possible areas of rescue.

NOTE: Possible areas of rescue can be in a stairwell/fire escape, areas adjacent to a stairwell or fire escape, a window facing the outside or a room within the structure; attempt to select a room with a phone.

Advise others (supervisors, administrators, instructors, colleagues, fellow students) about any concerns that you may have related to emergency exiting and how they can assist you in the event of an emergency. This can include assistance in exiting a building, assistance to areas of rescue and alerting emergency services of your location.

Assisting Those with Disabilities, Evacuation Guidelines

It is recommended that each Department establish a "buddy" system in which volunteers and alternates are recruited and paired with persons who request assistance due to disabilities or circumstances that create special evacuation needs. Volunteers should become familiar with the special evacuation needs of their buddies and plan to alert and assist them if an evacuation is ordered. Volunteers should keep in mind that many people with disabilities can assist in their evacuation.

Any person who will need supplemental assistance evacuating a location during an emergency or will require any other supplementary assistance during an emergency, should coordinate in advance with the building emergency coordinator(s) and individuals nearby who may be able to assist them.

Individuals who may need assistance include, but are not limited to, those who may experience:

- Blindness and/or low vision: May require guidance or assistance to the primary or secondary exit and to the pre-established assembly site.
- Deafness and/or hard of hearing: May not immediately recognize that the emergency alarms/sirens are activated, or other emergency notification is occurring. Some may require alerting and guidance to the primary or secondary exit or other emergency location.
- Mobility impairments and/or requiring the assistance of a medical device (wheelchair, walker, crutches, or cane, etc.): Although all exits should be barrier free, individuals may need assistance in leaving the work area or building and moving to the designated assembly site. For all emergencies, other than those eliminating the use of an elevator, priority elevator usage should be provided to those with mobility limitations. All other occupants should use the stairwells.

General Shelter Guidance

In some emergency situations, it may be necessary to seek shelter as opposed to conducting an evacuation.

If you are inside when a shelter order is issued, locate the best available shelter in that building. If you are outside, proceed to the closest building as quickly as possible.

For sheltering from severe weather or other threats that may pose additional concerns for the integrity of the building, seek an interior room on the lowest level of the building away from windows and exterior walls, if possible. Also, avoid areas with broad spanned roofs.

The reaction to an active shooter is very dynamic and depends on your location, among other factors, regarding the threat. Individuals should consider the best option for them out of the run, hide, or fight options. Barricading in a room is a form of sheltering and may be a vital option to an active shooter on campus.
Policy for Residents Reported as Missing

When a staff member, parent, student, or other individual familiar with a UI student knows that the student has been missing for 24 hours or more, that individual should immediately contact the appropriate law enforcement agency and initiate a missing person’s report. For missing students who reside on University of Iowa property (Residence Halls other University-owned or managed properties), the proper law enforcement agency to contact is the University of Iowa Police (319) 335-5022.

Any UI staff member who receives a missing student report regarding a campus resident missing for 24 hours or more is required to refer the report immediately to the Department of Public Safety. If the student reported missing is not yet 18 years of age and is not emancipated, the Department of Public Safety will notify the student’s custodial parent or guardian and any other contact person previously designated by the student within 24 hours of notification that the student is missing. For student residents of campus 18 years or older who are reported as missing, UI Department of Public Safety staff will contact the person previously designated by the resident as the missing person contact and notify him/her that the student is missing within 24 hours of the determination that they have been missing for 24 hours. The UI Department of Public Safety will notify local law enforcement authorities within 24 hours that a student is missing, regardless of if they have identified a missing person contact, is above the age of 18, or is an emancipated minor. For all missing students, the UI will notify the local law enforcement agency within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing, unless the local law enforcement agency was the entity that made the determination that the student is missing.

Of utmost concern to the University of Iowa is the safety of our residents of campus housing. Every resident of University of Iowa property (Residence Halls and other University-owned or managed properties) is provided the option (annually) when they occupy the leased space to designate a contact person or persons who the institution shall notify within 24 hours if the Department of Public Safety determines the student is missing. Housing staff registers the information submitted digitally by student residents as to ensure that the information will not be disclosed in violation of federal law governing student record information. When students are informed of their option to provide a confidential contact, they are advised that their contact information will be accessible only by authorized campus officials (including but not limited to the Office of the Dean of Students) and to law enforcement personnel in furtherance of a missing person investigation. Student are advised that the missing person contact information is made available to student residents of University property who are not yet 18 years of age and not emancipated, however, federal law requires that a custodial parent or guardian of a minor student be contacted within 24 hours of a missing student report, in addition to the contact person listed on the card, whether the minor student chose to list the custodial parent or guardian on the card.

Individuals who have a non-emergency concern about a student residing on University of Iowa-owned or leased property should contact the appropriate department (University Housing & Dining for Residence Halls or the UI Business Manager for University rental properties). The main phone line for University Housing & Dining is (319) 335-3000 and the Business Manager’s phone number is (319) 335-1968. Please be advised that a resident’s absence from a dormitory building or from a University of Iowa-owned student apartment is not usually considered an emergency, as residents attend classes and participate in University of Iowa functions outside of University of Iowa housing. To facilitate routine communication between family members and students in non-emergency situations, University Housing & Dining advises residents to check their e-mail regularly and utilize cell phones. Residents are not required to check out at the front desk with a University of Iowa official before exiting campus housing.
Security of Campus Facilities at The University of Iowa in Iowa City

Access to University Buildings

As a public institution of higher learning, the University of Iowa welcomes anyone interested in utilizing the wide range of educational facilities on campus. During business hours, the University will be open to students, parents, employees, contractors, guests, and invitees. During non-business hours access to all College facilities is by key or access card. The University reserves the right to revoke the right for any person to be on campus. For security reasons, however, not all University buildings are open to the public. University residence halls are private residences, and at certain hours of the night only residents or their escorted guests are permitted to enter or remain in the residence halls. It should be noted that most entrances to University of Iowa buildings are unmonitored, and access only by authorized persons cannot be guaranteed. Faculty, staff, and students are encouraged to contact the UI Department of Public Safety when they see suspicious persons or activity. Only authorized personnel are permitted in many areas of University Hospitals & Clinics. Most buildings open to the public are closed and locked after regular business hours.

Personal Property Security

Facilities for securing the personal property of students, staff, faculty, and visitors are provided in or near many campus buildings. Examples include lockers in the Campus Recreation and Wellness Center; lockers in various libraries; seven monitored parking ramps; gate-locked parking lots; and bicycle racks across the campus. In addition, the University provides housing on University of Iowa property for more than six thousand students. Students are encouraged to register their bicycles on campus at bikeindex.org/ uiowa/

Housing on Private Property, Including Student Organization Housing

Since private housing property is located within the geographic jurisdiction of the Iowa City Police and Coralville Police Departments, student-occupied dwelling units not located on property owned, controlled, or leased by the University of Iowa are neither secured nor monitored by the UI Department of Public Safety, except in the case of the Aspire apartments on the West Campus. While these units are privately owned, they are built on University of Iowa property and as part of the agreement for their construction the UI Department of Public Safety has jurisdiction over those buildings. All recognized student organizations which provide housing facilities are Greek-letter organizations responsible to the Pan-Hellenic Council, the Inter-Fraternity Council, or an academic college. Greek-letter chapter houses are managed by private housing corporations consisting of student members, chapter alumni, and professional housing managers. Security procedures may vary from chapter house to chapter house. To obtain information about the security procedures in place at a particular chapter house, interested students should consult with the executive officers or the housing board of the student organization.

Security and Monitoring of University Property

Sworn police officers of the UI Department of Public Safety patrol University-owned property 24 hours a day, 7 days a week on foot, on bicycles, and in squad cars. The frequency and intensity of the patrols increases during night-time hours. Security officers trained by the UI Department of Public Safety are assigned to monitor specific buildings or areas at night. These areas include on campus residential facilities.

Video Surveillance on Campus

The Department of Public Safety has access to over 1,000 cameras on the University of Iowa Campus at interior and exterior locations. The department cannot monitor all these cameras, however in response to an active incident or for investigative purposes, the cameras will be used in conjunction with safety operations. The Department of Public Safety plans to install more cameras in the future.

Security Considerations Used in the Maintenance of Campus Facilities

Many campus pathways remain lighted throughout the night. As part of their surveillance responsibilities, security officers report burned-out lights and other potentially dangerous situations. Maintenance crew members routinely replace lights, trim shrubbery, and remove snow, ice, and other debris from pathways. UI takes security into consideration in the maintenance of its facilities.

Access to Academic Buildings

The UI Department of Public Safety routinely checks University buildings that are closed during non-business hours. Each building has a scheduled time to be secured and only authorized staff members are issued keys or access cards to secured buildings. All indoor maintenance personnel wear uniform shirts with Facilities Management insignia for identification purposes, and all students and employees are issued University identification cards. In order to monitor access during secured hours, the entrances of many buildings are lighted.

Access to Residence Hall Buildings

For security purposes, all University student living spaces are secured 24 hours a day. The outside building doors to most residence halls are locked at least from midnight to 7:00 a.m. 7 days a week. Others are secured 24 hours a day. Each resident is issued an access card to their building as well as a key to their room and is advised to keep the room door locked at all hours of the day. During secured hours, a non-resident may only enter the building if he or she is a guest of a resident and enters through the main entrance; however, Residence Hall staff members do not monitor access at any entrance, and the University cannot guarantee that unescorted nonresidents cannot access the residence halls. Many residence halls have main desks staffed 24 hours a day. Residents are held responsible for the conduct of their guests, and non-residents found in a residence hall during secured hours in violation of this rule are subject to University of Iowa discipline and arrest for criminal trespass. At least one trained staff member is on duty 24 hours a day. Overnight guests should be registered at the information desk.

Security Precautions for University Apartments

Adult residents of University owned, or controlled apartments are issued keys to their respective apartments and are advised to keep their doors locked at all hours of the day. In addition to a smoke detector and fire extinguisher, important information, such as emergency and police phone numbers, is provided in writing. During daytime hours on weekdays, staff members are on duty in the University Apartments office. During the night, officers from the University Police routinely conduct exterior patrols of the Aspire apartments at West Campus.

Special Security Precautions in University Hospitals & Clinics

The University of Iowa Hospitals & Clinics’ Department of Safety and Security operates an in-house safety and security service with an emphasis on personal safety and fire safety as well as security. The UIHC Safety and Security Department staff does not have arrest powers but work in cooperation with the UI Department of Public Safety, the authorized law enforcement agency for the UIHC. To maintain the physical security of UIHC, the Safety and Security Department patrols the hospitals and clinics, secures doors, monitors a safety surveillance closed-circuit television system, and responds to requests by patients, visitors, and staff. Reports of serious criminal activity are routed directly to the UI Department of Public Safety. In cases of minor criminal activity, copies of Safety and Security reports are sent to the UI Department of Public Safety for consideration and possible follow-up.

Non-Campus Student Organization Housing

It is the responsibility of every registered student organization to ensure that all federal, state, and local laws are observed at activities sponsored by the organization. Crimes that occur in housing units maintained by officially registered student organizations on non-University property in Iowa City (non-campus locations as per the Clery Act are reported to the Iowa City Police Department, non –University property in Coralville is reported to the Coralville Police Department. UI does not use the local police agencies to monitor the crimes at those locations, those locations are a part of the local police agency’s jurisdiction. These agencies share with the University its records of police reports occurring in or near fraternity and sorority housing units. The Office of the Dean of Students, in cooperation with the Iowa City Police Department, the Coralville Police Department, and the UI Department of Public Safety, periodically reviews police reports to ascertain the number and type of reported crimes which occur on property owned or controlled by recognized student organizations. In cases where a student’s conduct on fraternity or sorority property violates University regulations, appropriate disciplinary action will be initiated by the Office of the Dean of Students.

Security of Campus Facilities at the Tippecanoe College Business Cedar Rapids Center in Cedar Rapids

The Tippecanoe College of Business Cedar Rapids Center occupies the third floor of the building and access to the building is made through lobby areas or walkways to the facility. Entrances and elevators are unlocked by on site staff members but entry doors to stairwells to enter the facility are always locked. Exiting the facility can be done at any time. During non-business hours the facility entrances are locked. There is a receptionist on site during class hours, but they do not monitor individuals entering the building and provide no other security functions other than unlocking and locking the facilities. Any concerns within the building should be brought to the attention of staff; however, all crime should be reported to the Cedar Rapids Police Department. Parking for the facility is at city parking meters or parking ramps near the facility, but the University does not control any of those parking spaces.

Neither is monitored, but the Facilities Manager resides in a house next to the service entrance and is aware of vehicles entering the grounds. All buildings are locked when not in use. (The library, stone classroom buildings, and computer lab are open 24 hours per day during the 8-week summer session only). There are no security cameras on campus. Any concerns should be brought to the attention of staff; however, all crimes should be reported to the Dickinson County Sheriff’s Department. Emergency assistance can be summoned by dialing 911. Parking is at various graveled lots or on the grass on campus.
Security Awareness and Crime Prevention Programs

General Purpose

The University undertakes programs designed to maintain awareness in the subject of safety and encourages students, staff, and faculty to take an active role in the deterrence of crime. Security awareness is accomplished through a variety of means. The University disseminates general and specific information in writing to the University community and presents a variety of programs tailored to the interests and particular needs of the various constituencies on campus. These programs include opportunities for students, staff, and faculty to meet and discuss crime issues with the Crime Prevention Specialist in the Department of Public Safety.

General Sources of Information

Under state law, certain police information is public, including the date, time, specific location, and immediate facts of a crime and the name and address of a person arrested and the criminal charge. To learn the most current crime information, members of the University community are encouraged to read the daily police arrest reports in the Daily Iowan or Iowa City Press-Citizen. The Department of Public Safety releases an activity report and arrest log through their web site at police.uiowa.edu/crime-log. In addition to releasing an activity report and arrest log, the Department of Public Safety issues timely warnings of crimes considered to be a serious or continuing threat to the University community which are reported to local police agencies.

Presentations

Crime prevention programs are presented periodically during the academic year by University personnel and student leaders. During orientation, new students are informed of services offered by the UI Department of Public Safety. During the 2020-2021 academic year, [Abbreviation] offered approximately 77 crime prevention and security awareness programs. A common theme of all awareness programs is student and staff responsibility for their own safety and the security of others. The UI Department of Public Safety employs a full time Community Outreach Officer to coordinate campus-wide prevention efforts and assist individual departments on a case-by-case basis. In addition, University departments such as the Women’s Resource and Action Center and the Rape Victim Advocacy Program present a variety of programs, many of which are related to personal safety and bystander skill building. Topics such as personal safety, residence hall security, drug and alcohol abuse awareness and sexual assault prevention are some examples of programs offered during the prior academic year. In these programs, students and employees are encouraged to be responsible for their own security and the security of others.

Examples of Programming Offered

Due to the size of the University and the changing calendar of campus activities over the course of a year, the number of security programs presented varies month to month. Among the prevention programs regularly offered are date rape awareness workshops in the residence halls and Greek system; small-group discussion in freshman orientation; shoplifting awareness training for IMU Bookstore employees; Cambus late-night and NITE RIDE transportation service; fire drills in the residence halls conducted by the Iowa City Fire Department; and RAD self-defense program for women and men. September is Security Awareness Month in the residence halls, during which time formal and informal programming is provided to residents on topics related to crime prevention. Examples of other programming offered by the institution are:

Bystander Intervention

Bystander intervention is the active engagement of witnesses and onlookers in situations involving inappropriate, offensive or potentially dangerous conduct in ways that promote safe, healthy, and respectful interactions between individuals, and communicate expectations for acceptable behavior in communities. Workshops available on bystander intervention help participants develop skills for safety responding and intervening in problematic situations, acknowledge violence as a community wide problem, and recognize barriers to intervention.

Healthy Relationships Workshop

Interactive workshop designed to encourage discussion and critical thinking around patterns of dating violence and dynamics of healthy relationships. Participants will also learn how to support individuals who may be experiencing relationship violence.

Enthusiastic Consent Workshop

Discusses affirmative consent practices in a sex positive framework and offers students concrete examples of ways to incorporate enthusiastic consent into their lives. This workshop shows examples of what consent is not, talks about the ways we're programmed from childhood not to expect consent, and includes small group work on how to ask for consent.

Queering Consent Workshop

Explores the history of consent practices in queer communities and the current landscape of consent in LGBTQ spaces and relationships.

Rape Aggression Defense (R.A.D.)

The Department of Public Safety offers Rape Aggression Defense (R.A.D.) classes every semester. R.A.D. is the nation’s largest self-defense course. The R.A.D. approach to personal safety education embodies a practical blend of threat avoidance strategies and real-world assault resistance for men and women. To learn when courses are available or for more information, visit the University of Iowa Department of Public Safety website or email police@uiowa.edu. Courses may be provided to groups of 10 or more upon request.

Better Men. Better Hawkeyes

Better Men. Better Hawkeyes is a free, one-hour program dedicated to promoting healthy masculinity across campus, specifically engaging groups where students who identify as men come together. The program intends to address sexual violence by fostering large and small group discussions about gender stereotypes and sexual consent among peers. To find more information about the program or to sign up for a class, visit the website.

Dismantling Rape Culture Workshop

Interrogates the way that our society is set up to both subtly and overtly support sexual violence and offers participants a framework to challenge rape culture in their own lives. The session offers pop culture examples of rape culture, discusses the repercussions of not challenging this culture, and offers small group work on how to challenge it using popular song lyrics and/or scenarios.

Responding to Disclosures
This workshop is intended primarily for staff, faculty, and students who are not mandatory reporters on campus, but who want to know how to compassionately respond to disclosures of gender-based violence and discrimination. The program focuses on likely forms of disclosure, how to respond appropriately, and where to connect individuals to resources on campus and in the community. Participants will have the opportunity to practice compassionate responses using tailored scenarios.

A View Into Policy

An interactive workshop that aims to shed light on sexual misconduct investigations. The workshop covers the role of policy, types of prohibited conduct described by policy and scenarios to help connect abstract policy constructs to real life, an investigation framework for resolving questions of consent, and alcohol consumption and incapacitation.

Security Awareness Programs for Other Campuses

The University of Iowa does not provide any security awareness programs for these locations; however, all students are invited to attend programs on the main campus in Iowa City.

Policy Regarding Use of Illegal Drugs and Alcohol

Drug Free Schools and Communities Act

In compliance with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, The University of Iowa publishes information regarding the University’s educational programs related to drug and alcohol abuse prevention; sanctions for violations of federal, state, and local laws and University policy; a description of health risks associated with alcohol and other drug use; and a description of available treatment programs for UI students and employees. A complete description of these topics, as provided in the University’s annual notification to students and employees, is available online at:

https://dos.uiowa.edu/policies/illegal-drugs-and-alcohol/

Minimum sanctions for violations of the University Alcohol and Drug Policies are here:

dos.uiowa.edu/policies/minimum-sanctions/

University of Iowa prohibits the unlawful possession, use, and sale of alcoholic beverages and illegal drugs on campus. The University of Iowa Police Department has primary responsibility for the enforcement of State underage drinking laws as well as the enforcement of Federal and State drug laws.
Policies Regarding Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence and Stalking

The University of Iowa does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational programs. Sexual harassment and sexual violence are types of sex discrimination. Other acts can also be forms of sex-based discrimination and are also prohibited whether sexually based or not and include dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking. As a result, the University of Iowa issues this statement of policy to inform the community of our comprehensive plan addressing sexual misconduct, educational programs, and procedures that address sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, whether the incident occurs on or off campus and when it is reported to a University of Iowa responsible employee (AAO). In this context, the University of Iowa prohibits the offenses of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking and reaffirms its commitment to maintain a campus environment emphasizing the dignity and worth of all members of the University community.

The University of Iowa strongly encourages anyone seeking information about sexual harassment or sexual misconduct to visit the Office of Institutional Equity, diversity.uiowa.edu/division/oie. This site houses significant information regarding the University’s policies, resources for complainants, respondents and for University of Iowa mandated reporters.

Definitions

There are numerous terms used by the University of Iowa in our policy and procedures. The Clery Act requires the institution provide you with the definition of these terms as defined by the Department of Education as well as in the State of Iowa’s criminal code.

Consent under Iowa law

Under Iowa law the following people are unable to give consent:

- Persons who are asleep or unconscious
- Persons who are incapacitated due to the influence of drugs, alcohol, or medication
- Persons who are unable to communicate consent due to a mental or physical condition

Sexual Misconduct and Consent under University of Iowa Policy

The following terms and definitions are relevant to understanding prohibited conduct in this section.

a. "Consent." Consent is knowing, voluntary, and clear permission by word or unambiguous action to engage in sexual activity.

Since individuals may experience the same interaction in different ways, it is the responsibility of each party to determine that the other has consented before engaging in the activity.

If consent is not clearly provided prior to engaging in the activity, consent may be ratified by word or action at some point during the interaction.

For consent to be valid, there must be a clear expression in words or actions that the other individual consented to that specific sexual conduct. Reasonable reciprocation can be implied. For example, if someone kisses you, you can kiss them back (if you want to) without the need to explicitly obtain their consent to being kissed back.

Consent can also be withdrawn once given, as long as the withdrawal is reasonably communicated. If there is confusion as to whether anyone has consented or continues to consent to sexual activity, the participants must stop the activity until each consents to it.

Consent to some sexual contact (such as kissing or fondling) cannot be presumed to be consent for other sexual activity (such as intercourse). A current or previous intimate relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent.

The existence of consent is based on the totality of the circumstances evaluated from the perspective of a reasonable person in the same or similar circumstances, including the context in which the alleged incident occurred and relationship between the parties.

Consent in relationships must also be considered in context. When parties consent to BDSM or other forms of kink, non-consent may be shown by the use of a safe word. Resistance, force, violence, or even saying "no" may be part of the kink and thus consensual, so the University of Iowa’s evaluation of communication in kink situations should be guided by reasonableness, rather than strict adherence to policy that assumes non-kink relationships as a default.

b. "Incapacitation." Incapacitation occurs when someone cannot make rational, reasonable decisions because they lack the capacity to give knowing/informed consent (e.g., to understand the "who, what, when, where, why, or how" of their sexual interaction). A person cannot consent if they are unable to understand what is happening or are disoriented, helpless, asleep, or unconscious, for any reason, including by alcohol or other drugs (including medication). Subsequent memory loss alone, which may not be observable at the time of events, is not sufficient to establish that someone was incapacitated.

Incapacitation is determined through consideration of all relevant indicators of the complainant’s state and is not synonymous with intoxication, impairment, blackout, and/or being drunk. As stated above, a respondent violates this policy if they engage in sexual activity with someone who is incapable of giving consent. This policy covers a person whose incapacity results from:

- A temporary or permanent physical or mental health condition,
- Involuntary physical restraint, and/or
- The consumption of alcohol or drugs.

It is a defense to a sexual harassment and sexual misconduct policy violation that the respondent neither knew nor should have known the complainant to be physically or mentally incapacitated, regardless of the reason. A determination whether a respondent “should have known” that a complainant was incapacitated is made by looking at the particular facts available from an objective, reasonable-person standard. The definition of “a reasonable person”... includes a person who is both sober and exercising sound judgment.

c. "Coercion." Coercion is the use of an unreasonable amount of pressure that would overcome the will of a reasonable person. Coercion is more than an effort to persuade, entice, or attract another person to engage in sexual activity. When a person makes clear a decision not to participate in a particular sexual activity, a decision to stop, or a decision not to go beyond a certain sexual interaction, continued pressure can become coercive. In evaluating whether coercion was used, the university will consider: (1) the frequency, intensity, and duration of the pressure; (2) the degree of isolation of the person being pressured; and (3) any actual or perceived power differential between the parties in the context of their respective roles within the university.

Paragraph a contains definitions required in Part 106.3 of the U.S. Department of Education Title IX Regulations. These definitions also apply in situations that are otherwise not covered by Title IX (e.g., off-campus).

a. "Sexual harassment I" means conduct on the basis of sex that satisfies one or more of the following:

(1) An employee of the university conditioning the provision of an aid, benefit, or service of the university on an individual's participation in unwelcome sexual conduct;

(2) Unwelcome conduct determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it effectively denies a person equal access to the university's education program or activity; or

(3) "Sexual assault" as defined in 20 USC 1092(f)(6)(A)(v) means an offense classified as a forcible or nonforcible sex offense under the uniform crime reporting system of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. A sex offense is any sexual act directed at or attempted against another person, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent. Sexual assault includes:

(a) "Fondling": The touching of the private body parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of their age or because of their temporary or permanent mental incapacity.

(c) "Statutory rape": Sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

(d) "Rape": The penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.

(4) "Dating violence" as defined in 34 USC 12291(a)(10) means violence committed by a person:

(a) Who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim; and

(b) Where the existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on a consideration of the following factors:

(i) The length of the relationship;

(ii) The type of relationship;

(iii) The frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.

(5) "Domestic violence" as defined in 34 USC 12291(a)(8) means a felony or misdemeanor crime of violence committed:

(a) By a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim;

(b) By a person with whom the victim shares a child in common;

(c) By a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner;

(d) By a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction receiving grant monies; or

(e) By any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction.

(6) Stalking as defined in 34 USC 12291(a)(30):

(a) "Stalking" means engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to:

(i) Fear for their safety or the safety of others; or

(ii) Suffer substantial emotional distress.

(b) Examples of stalking include:

(i) Attempting to gather information about the target of unwelcome conduct;

(ii) Vandalism, including attacks on data and equipment;

(iii) Direct physical and/or verbal threats against a target of unwelcome conduct or loved ones of a target of unwelcome conduct, including animal abuse;

(iv) Gathering of information about a target of unwelcome conduct from family, friends, coworkers, and/or classmates;

(v) Manipulative and controlling behaviors such as threats to harm oneself, or threats to harm someone close to the target of unwelcome conduct;

(vi) Defamation or slander against the target of unwelcome conduct, posting false information about the target of unwelcome conduct; posing as the complainant in order to post to websites, news groups, blogs, or other sites that allow public contributions; and/or encouraging others to harass the target of unwelcome conduct;

(vii) Posing as someone other than oneself to initiate transactions, financial credit, loans, or other contractual agreements;

(viii) Arranging to meet the target of unwelcome conduct under false pretenses.

b. "Sexual misconduct" is a broad term encompassing any unwelcome behavior of a sexual nature that is committed without consent or by force, intimidation, coercion, or manipulation.

(1) "Sexual harassment II" is persistent, repetitive, or egregious conduct directed at a specific individual or group of individuals that a reasonable person would interpret, in the full context in which the conduct occurs, as harassment of a sexual nature.

Harassment of a sexual nature has the effect of limiting or denying another person's work or educational performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or demeaning environment for employment, education, on-campus living, or participation in a university program or activity.
Examples of this type of behavior include:

(a) Unwanted behavior of a sexual nature;
(b) Persistent unwelcome efforts to develop a romantic or sexual relationship;
(c) Unwelcome commentary about an individual’s body or sexual activities;
(d) Repeated unwanted sexual attention;
(e) Repeated and unwelcome sexually oriented teasing, joking, or flirting;
(f) Verbal abuse of a sexual nature.

Examples of non-consensual sexual contact are any intentional sexual contact, however slight, with any body part or object, by any individual upon another. Sexual contact includes intentional contact with the breasts, buttock, groin, or genitals, touching another with any of these body parts or an object, making another touch you or themselves with or on any of these body parts, or any intentional bodily contact in a sexual manner. Non-consensual sexual contact that occurs within the context of an individual’s authorized responsibilities will be evaluated for reasonableness within that context. Non-consensual sexual contact may be found because of:

(a) Without consent,
(b) By force,
(c) By coercion, or
(d) Upon an individual without capacity to consent because of:
   (i) Age
   (ii) Temporary or permanent mental incapacity,
   (iii) Temporary or permanent physical incapacity.

"Sexual exploitation" is conduct that takes non-consensual sexual advantage of another individual, often without the knowledge of that person, for any purpose, including sexual gratification, financial gain, personal benefit, or any other nonlegitimate purpose. Examples of sexual exploitation include but are not limited to:

Domestic Violence under the Code of Iowa

708.2A Domestic abuse assault as defined by Iowa State Criminal Law—mandatory minimums, penalties enhanced—extension of no-contact order.

1. For the purposes of this chapter, "domestic abuse assault" means an assault, as defined in section 708.1, which is domestic abuse as defined in section 236.2, subsection 2, paragraph "a", "b", "c", or "d".

2. On a first offense of domestic abuse assault, the person commits:
   a. A simple misdemeanor for a domestic abuse assault, except as otherwise provided.
   b. A serious misdemeanor, if the domestic abuse assault causes bodily injury or mental illness.
   c. An aggravated misdemeanor, if the domestic abuse assault is committed with the intent to inflict a serious injury upon another, or if the person uses or displays a dangerous weapon in connection with the assault. This paragraph does not apply if section 708.6 or 708.8 applies.
   d. An aggravated misdemeanor, if the domestic abuse assault is committed by knowingly impeding the normal breathing or circulation of the blood of another by applying pressure to the throat or neck of the other person or by obstructing the nose or mouth of the other person.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, on a second domestic abuse assault, a person commits:
   a. A serious misdemeanor, if the first offense was classified as a simple misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a simple misdemeanor.
   b. An aggravated misdemeanor, if the first offense was classified as a simple or aggravated misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a serious or aggravated misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a simple or serious misdemeanor.

4. On a third or subsequent offense of domestic abuse assault, a person commits a class "D" felony.

5. For a domestic abuse assault committed by knowingly impeding the normal breathing or circulation of the blood of another by applying pressure to the throat or neck of the other person or by obstructing the nose or mouth of the other person, and causing bodily injury, the person commits a class "D" felony.
   a. A conviction for, deferred judgment for, or plea of guilty to, a violation of this section which occurred more than twelve years prior to the date of the violation charged shall not be considered in determining that the violation charged is a second or subsequent offense.
   b. For the purpose of determining if a violation charged is a second or subsequent offense, deferred judgments issued pursuant to section 907.3 for violations of section 708.2 or this section, which were issued on domestic abuse assaults, and convictions or the equivalent of deferred judgments for violations in any other states under statutes substantially corresponding to this section shall be counted as previous offenses. The courts shall judicially notice the statutes of other states which define offenses substantially equivalent to the offenses defined in this section and can therefore be considered corresponding statutes. Each previous violation on which conviction or deferral of judgment was entered prior to the date of the offense charged shall be considered and counted as a separate previous offense.
   c. An offense shall be considered a prior offense regardless of whether it was committed upon the same victim.

6. a. A person convicted of violating subsection 2 or 3 shall serve a minimum term of two days of the sentence imposed by law, and shall not be eligible for suspension of the minimum sentence. The minimum term shall be served on consecutive days. The court shall impose a fine in lieu of the minimum sentence, although a fine may be imposed in addition to the minimum sentence. This section does not prohibit the court from sentencing the person from serving the maximum term of confinement or from paying the maximum fine permitted pursuant to chapters 902 and 903, and does not prohibit the court from entering a deferred judgment or sentence pursuant to section 907.3, if the person has not previously received a deferred sentence or judgment for a violation of section 708.2 or this section which was issued on a domestic abuse assault.
   b. A person convicted of violating subsection 4 shall be sentenced as provided under section 902.9, subsection 1, paragraph "e", and shall be denied parole or work release until the person has served a minimum of one year of the person's sentence. Notwithstanding section 901.5, subsections 1, 3, and 5, and section 907.3, the person cannot receive a suspended or deferred sentence or a deferred judgment; however, the person sentenced shall receive credit for any time the person was confined in a jail or detention facility following arrest.

7. If a person is convicted for, receives a deferred judgment for, or pleads guilty to a violation of this section, the court shall modify the no-contact order issued upon initial appearance in the manner provided in section 664A.5, regardless of whether the person is placed on probation.

8. The clerk of the district court shall provide notice and copies of a judgment entered under this section to the applicable law enforcement agencies and the twenty-four hour dispatcher for the law enforcement agencies, in the manner provided for protective orders under section 236.5. The clerk shall provide notice and copies of modifications of the judgment in the same manner.

9. In addition to the mandatory minimum term of confinement imposed by subsection 7, paragraph "a", the court shall order a person convicted under subsection 2 or 3 to participate in a batterers' treatment program as required under section 708.2B. In addition, as a condition of deferring judgment or sentence pursuant to section 907.3, the court shall order the person to participate in a batterers' treatment program. Stalking under the Clery Act

1. Engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to—
   - a. Fear for the person’s safety or the safety of others; or
   - b. Suffer substantial emotional distress.

2. For the purposes of this definition—

Course of conduct means two or more acts, including, but not limited to, acts which the stalker directly, indirectly, or through third parties, by any action, method, device, or means follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens, or communicates to or about, a person, or interferes with a person’s property.
   - b. Substantial emotional distress means significant mental suffering or anguish that may, but does not necessarily, require medical or other professional treatment or counseling.

Stalking under the Code of Iowa

708.11 Stalking: As defined by Iowa State Criminal Law:

1. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:
   - a. “Accompanying offense” means any public offense committed as part of the course of conduct engaged in while committing the offense of stalking.
   - b. “Course of conduct” means repeatedly maintaining a visual or physical proximity to a person without legitimate purpose or repeatedly conveying oral or written threats, threats implied by conduct, or a combination thereof, directed at or toward a person.
   - c. “Immediate family member” means a spouse, parent, child, sibling, or any other person who regularly resides in the household of a specific person, or who within the prior six months regularly resided in the household of a specific person.
   - d. “Repeatedly” means on two or more occasions.

2. A person commits stalking when all of the following occur:
   - a. The person purposefully engages in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear bodily injury to, or the death of, that specific person or a member of the specific person’s immediate family.
   - b. The person has knowledge or should have knowledge that the specific person will be placed in reasonable fear of bodily injury to, or the death of, that specific person or a member of the specific person’s immediate family.
   - c. The person’s course of conduct induces fear in the specific person of bodily injury to, or the death of, that specific person or a member of the specific person’s immediate family.

3. a. A person who commits stalking in violation of this section commits a class “C” felony for a third or subsequent offense.
   - b. A person who commits stalking in violation of this section commits a class “D” felony if any of the following apply:
     (1) The person commits stalking while subject to restrictions contained in a criminal or civil protective order or injunction, or any other court order which prohibits contact between the person and the victim, or while subject to restrictions contained in a criminal or civil protective order or injunction or other court order which prohibits contact between the person and another person against whom the person has committed a public offense.
     (2) The person commits stalking while in possession of a dangerous weapon, as defined in section 702.7.

deferred judgment for, or plea of guilty to a violation of this section or an accompanying offense which occurred at any time prior to the date of the violation charged shall be considered in determining that the violation charged is a second or subsequent offense. Deferred judgments pursuant to section 907.3 for violations of this section or accompanying offenses and convictions or the equivalent of deferred judgments for violations in any other states under statutes substantially corresponding to this section or accompanying offenses shall be counted as previous offenses. In addition, however, accompanying offenses committed as part of the course of conduct engaged in while committing the violation of stalking charged shall be considered prior offenses for the purpose of that violation, even though the accompanying offenses occurred at approximately the same time. An offense shall be considered a second or subsequent offense regardless of whether it was committed upon the same person who was the victim of any other previous offense.

5. Notwithstanding section 804.1, rule of criminal procedure 2.7, Iowa court rules, or any other provision of law to the contrary, upon the filing of a complaint and a finding of probable cause to believe an offense has been committed in violation of this section, or after the filing of an indictment or information alleging a violation of this section, the court shall issue an arrest warrant, rather than a citation or summons. A peace officer shall not issue a citation in lieu of arrest for a violation of this section. Notwithstanding section 804.21 or any other provision of law to the contrary, a person arrested for stalking shall be immediately taken into custody and shall not be released pursuant to pretrial release guidelines, a bond schedule, or any similar device, until after the initial appearance before a magistrate. In establishing the conditions of release, the magistrate may consider the defendant’s prior criminal history, in addition to the other factors provided in section 811.2.

6. For purposes of determining whether or not the person should register as a sex offender pursuant to the provisions of chapter 692A, the fact finder shall make a determination as provided in section 692A.126.
Procedures Victims Should Follow if a Crime of Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault and Stalking Occurs

Medical Care and Preserving Evidence

Obtaining Medical Care

Students or employees who have experienced a recent sexual assault, dating violence or domestic violence, are strongly encouraged to visit a hospital or clinic to take care of their medical needs. A hospital or clinic can treat a victim’s injuries and provide necessary medical advice and medication in case a victim may have contracted a sexually transmitted disease (STD) or has pregnancy concerns. A Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner is available to perform a sexual abuse evidentiary examination. Receiving an evidentiary examination does not mean that a victim must make a formal report to the University or to law enforcement. Rather, the examination serves to preserve evidence if a victim may wish to make a complaint in the future. A sexual assault evidentiary exam is fully covered and paid for by the State of Iowa and will not be submitted for insurance purposes. A name is not required, and the victim can remain anonymous. To secure medical assistance and/or a sexual abuse evidentiary exam, visit:

University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics
Emergency Department (open 24 hours)
200 Hawkins Drive
Carver Pavilion, Level 1
Iowa City, Iowa 52242
Emergency Medicine phone: (319) 356-2233
UIHC Nurseline (operated 24 hours): (319) 384-8442

Preserving Evidence

It is important that a victim of sexual assault not bathe, douche, smoke, change clothing or clean the bed/linen/area where they were assaulted if the offense occurred within the past 96 hours so that evidence may be preserved that may assist in proving that the alleged criminal offense occurred/or is occurring or may be helpful in obtaining a protection order. In circumstances of sexual assault, if victims do not opt for forensic evidence collection, health care providers can still treat injuries and take steps to address concerns of pregnancy and/or sexually transmitted disease. Victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, stalking, and dating violence are encouraged to also preserve evidence by saving text messages, instant messages, social networking pages, other communications, and keeping pictures, logs or other copies of documents, if they have any, that would be useful to University hearing boards/investigators or police.

Procedures for Filing a Report

If you have been the victim of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, you may report the incident promptly to Title IX and Gender Equity, Office of Institutional Equity. The person who experienced harm will be provided with a guide detailing information about University of Iowa resources and policies, including information about their rights and options. Resource information provided by the University, on-campus off-campus or both, includes medical, health, counseling, victim advocacy, legal assistance and visa and immigration assistance to persons who have been victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking. The procedures set forth below are intended to afford a prompt response to charges of sexual assault, domestic or dating violence, and stalking, to maintain confidentiality and fairness consistent with applicable legal requirements, and to impose appropriate sanctions on violators of this policy.

As time passes, evidence may dissipate or become lost or unavailable, thereby making investigation, possible prosecution, disciplinary proceedings, or obtaining protection from abuse orders related to the incident more difficult. If a victim chooses not to make a complaint regarding an incident, the victim nevertheless should consider speaking with University of Iowa Police or other law enforcement to preserve evidence to assist in proving that the alleged criminal offense occurred or that may be helpful in obtaining a protection order, in the event that the victim changes their mind at a later date.

To Make an Administrative Complaint and/or Request an Accommodation

1. File a complaint with the Title IX Coordinator at Title IX and Gender Equity, Office of Institutional Equity (319-335-6200; oie-tixge@uiowa.edu). Such a report may be made at any time (including during nonbusiness hours) by using the telephone number or email address, or by mail to the office address listed below for the Title IX Coordinator at Title IX and Gender Equity.

2. Report online, using the reporting form posted at diversity.uiowa.edu/report/report-problem. Anonymous reports are accepted but can give rise to a need to investigate. The University of Iowa tries to provide supportive measures to all complainants, which is impossible with an anonymous report. Because reporting carries no obligation to initiate a formal response, and as the University of Iowa respects complainant requests to dismiss complaints unless there is a compelling threat to health and/or safety, the complainant is largely in control and should not fear a loss of privacy by making a report that allows the University of Iowa to discuss and/or provide supportive measures.

3. Any person may make a report that a student, employee, or visitor has experienced or committed sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation by contacting Title IX and Gender Equity, or any academic or administrative officer of the university. A formal complaint means a document filed/signed by the complainant or signed by the Title IX Coordinator alleging a policy violation by a respondent and requesting that the University of Iowa investigate the allegation(s) or resolve through an adaptable resolution. A complaint may be filed with the Title IX Coordinator in person, by mail, or by electronic mail, by using the contact information below, or as described in this subchapter. As used in this paragraph, the phrase “document filed by a complainant” means a document or electronic submission (such as by electronic mail or through an online portal provided for this purpose by the University of Iowa) that contains the complainant’s physical or digital signature, or otherwise reliably indicates that the complainant is the person filing the complaint.

If notice is submitted in a form that does not meet this standard, the Title IX Coordinator will contact the complainant to ensure that it is filed correctly.

To make a report and to request accommodations, students and employees should contact:

To Make a Report to Law Enforcement

Although the university strongly encourages all members of its community to report violations of this policy to law enforcement, it is the victim’s choice whether to make such a report and victims have the right to decline involvement with the police. The University of Iowa's Title IX and Gender Equity unit and/or the Rape Victim’s Advocacy Program will assist any victim with notifying local police if they so desire. When taking a report the police officer collects information about the incident through witness statements, pictures, videos, and other evidence. The police officer may interview other witnesses. Once facts are gathered the officer may file charges, refer the case to the county attorney, or close the case. The law enforcement agencies that serve the University of Iowa are the University of Iowa Department of Public Safety’s Police Division (sworn law enforcement on campus empowered and trained to respond and investigate sexual assault, stalking, dating violence and domestic violence), the Iowa City Police, the Coralville Police Department, the Johnson County Sheriff’s Office, University Heights Police and North Liberty Police. Supportive measures are non-disciplinary, nonpunitive, individualized services offered as appropriate, as reasonably available, and without fee or charge to the parties to restore or preserve access to the University of Iowa’s education program, activity, or workplace, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties or the University of Iowa’s educational environment, and/or deter sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation.

The Title IX Coordinator promptly makes supportive measures available to the parties upon receiving notice or a complaint. At the time that supportive measures are offered, the University of Iowa will inform the complainant, in writing, that they may file a formal complaint with the University of Iowa either at that time or in the future, if they have not done so already. The Title IX Coordinator works with the complainant to ensure that their wishes are taken into account with respect to the supportive measures that are planned and implemented.

The Title IX Coordinator will work with the complainant’s or respondent’s Senior Human Resources Leader or the Associate Dean for Faculty when implementing support measures related to the workplace or when the alleged conduct involves a nexus to the workplace.

Subject to applicable laws and court orders, the University of Iowa will maintain the privacy of the supportive measures, provided that privacy does not impair the University of Iowa’s ability to provide the supportive measures. The University of Iowa will act to ensure that their wishes are taken into account with respect to the supportive measures that are planned and implemented.

Supportive measures may be extended, but are not limited to:

1. One-on-one coaching;
2. Referral to counseling, medical, and/or other health care services;
3. Referral to community-based service providers;
4. Visa and immigration assistance;
5. Student financial aid counseling;

9. Providing parking or transportation accommodations;
10. Implementing contact limitations (mutual no-contact directives) between the parties;
11. Academic extensions of deadlines, or other course-/program-related adjustments;
12. Crime alerts;

14. Increased security and monitoring of certain areas of the campus;

Accommodations and Supportive Measures

The University of Iowa will offer and implement appropriate and reasonable supportive measures to the parties upon notice of alleged sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation.
(15) Any other actions deemed appropriate by the Title IX Coordinator.

Violations of mutual no-contact directives will be referred to appropriate student or employee conduct processes for enforcement.

Orders of Protection and Mutual No-Contact Directives

The University complies with Iowa law in recognizing orders of protection, which can be civil or criminal in nature and are obtained by visiting the Johnson County Courthouse or the Domestic Violence Intervention Program (see Off Campus Resources for complete contact information.) The University cannot apply for a legal order of protection, no contact order or restraining order for or on behalf of the victim from the applicable jurisdiction. The victim is required to apply directly for these services.

The University may issue an institutional mutual no-contact directive if deemed appropriate or at the request of a party. If the University receives a report that such an institutional mutual no-contact directive has been violated, the University will initiate disciplinary proceedings appropriate to the status of the accused (student, employee, etc.) and will impose sanctions if the accused is found responsible for violating the mutual no-contact directive.

The University will assist any person who obtains an order of protection by meeting with them and describing actions that can be taken to ensure their safety. The protected party should provide a copy of the order to the UI Department of Public Safety and Title IX & Gender Equity. A protected party may meet with the UI Department of Public Safety and/or Title IX & Gender Equity to develop a safety action plan, to reduce risk of harm while on campus or going to and from campus. This plan may include, but is not limited to the following accommodations: escorts, special parking arrangements, providing a temporary cellphone, changing classroom location or allowing a student to complete assignments from home, changing, temporarily, an employee’s work location, etc.

At the protected party’s request and to the extent of their cooperation and consent, university offices will work cooperatively to ensure that the protected party’s health, physical safety, work and academic status are protected. For example, if reasonably available, a protected party may be offered changes to academic, living, transportation or working situations, protective orders in addition to counseling, health services, and consent, university offices will work cooperatively to ensure that the

In all cases in which an emergency removal is imposed, the student, the employee, or two representatives from a student organization will be given notice of the action and the option to request to meet with the Title IX Coordinator prior to such action/removal being imposed, or as soon thereafter as reasonably possible, to show cause why the action/removal should not be implemented or should be modified.

This meeting is not a hearing on the merits of the allegation(s), but rather is an administrative process intended to determine solely whether the emergency removal is appropriate. When this meeting is not requested in a timely manner, objections to the emergency removal will be deemed waived. A complainant and their advisor may be permitted to participate in this meeting if the Title IX Coordinator determines it is equitable to do so. There is no appeal process for emergency removal decisions.

A respondent may be accompanied by their advisor when meeting with the Title IX Coordinator for this meeting. The respondent will be given access to a written summary of the basis for the emergency removal prior to the meeting to allow for adequate preparation.

The Title IX Coordinator has sole discretion under this policy to implement or stay an emergency removal and to determine the conditions and duration. Violation of an emergency removal under this policy will be grounds for discipline, which may include expulsion or termination.

The University of Iowa will implement the least restrictive emergency actions practical in light of the circumstances and safety concerns. As determined by the Title IX Coordinator, these actions could include, but are not limited to: removing a student from a residence hall; temporarily reassigning an employee; restricting a student’s or an employee’s access to or use of facilities or equipment; allowing a student to withdraw or take grades of incomplete without financial penalty; authorizing an administrative leave; and suspending a student’s participation in extracurricular activities, student employment, student organizational leadership, or intercollegiate/intramural athletics.

At the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator, alternative course work options may be pursued to ensure as minimal an academic impact as possible on the parties.

Promptness

All allegations are acted upon promptly by the University of Iowa once it has received notice or a formal complaint. The University of Iowa will avoid all undue delays within its control.

Any time the general time frames for resolution outlined in University of Iowa procedures will be delayed, the University of Iowa will provide written notice to the parties of the delay, the cause of the delay, and an estimate of the anticipated additional time that will be needed as a result of the delay.

Confidentiality

Personally identifiable information about the protected party will be treated as private and only shared with persons with a specific need to know. No one will act on information to investigate/adjudicate the complaint or reviewing resources or support services to the complainant (for example, publicly available record-keeping for purposes of Clery Act reporting and disclosures will be made without inclusion of identifying information about the victim, as defined in 42 USC 1395 (a) (20). Further, the institution will maintain as confidential, any accommodations or protective measures provided to the protected party to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the institution to provide the accommodations or protective measures.

The University does not publish the name of crime victims nor house identifiable information regarding victims in the UI Department of Public Safety’s daily crime log, in the annual crime statistics that are disclosed in compliance with the Clery Act or online. Furthermore, if a Crime Alert is issued based on a report of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking, the name of the victim and other personally identifiable information about the victim will be withheld.

Victims may request that directory information on file be removed from public sources by request. Students should contact the Dean of Students for assistance. Employees should contact Human Resources for assistance.

Privacy

Every effort is made by the University of Iowa to preserve the privacy of reports.1 The University of Iowa will not share the identity of any individual who has made a report or complaint of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation; any complainant; any individual who has been reported to be the perpetrator of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation; any respondent; or any witness, except as permitted by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), 20 USC 1232g; FERPA regulations, 34 CFR 99; or as required by law, court order, or legal process; or to carry out the purposes of 34 CFR 106, including the conducting of any investigation, hearing, grievance, or resolution proceeding arising under University of Iowa policies and procedures.

The University of Iowa reserves the right to determine which University of Iowa officials have a legitimate educational interest in being informed about incidents that fall within this policy, pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Only a small group of officials who have a business need to know will typically be told about the complaint; they may include, but are not limited to: Title IX and Gender Equity and the Equity Investigations unit in the Office of Institutional Equity, the Office of Student Accountability, Senior Human Resources Leader or Associate Dean for Faculty, the Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost, University Human Resources, the departmental executive officer, Department of Public Safety, and the Threat Assessment Program. Information will be shared as necessary with response coordinators, investigators, adjudicators, witnesses, and the parties. The circle of people with this knowledge will be kept as tight as possible to preserve the parties’ rights and privacy.

Note:

For the purpose of this policy, “privacy” and “confidentiality” have distinct meanings. “Privacy” means that information related to a complaint will be shared with a limited number of University of Iowa employees who “need to know” to assist in the assessment, investigation, and resolution of the report. All employees who are involved in the University of Iowa’s response to notice under this policy receive specific training and guidance about sharing and safeguarding private information in accordance with state and federal law. The privacy of student education records will be protected in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), as outlined in the University of Iowa’s FERPA policy. The privacy of employee records will be protected in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), as outlined in the University of Iowa’s FERPA policy.

Confidentiality exists in the context of laws that protect certain relationships, including those who provide services related to medical and clinical care, certified victim advocacy, mental health providers, counselors, and ordained clergy. The law creates a privilege between certain health care providers, mental health care providers, attorneys, victim advocates, clergy, spouses, and others, with their patients, clients, parishioners, and spouses. The University of Iowa has designated individuals who can have privileged communications as confidential resources. For more information about confidential resources, see II-4.16e(1). When information is shared by a complainant with a confidential resource, the confidential resource cannot reveal the information to any third party except when an applicable law or a court order requires or permits disclosure of such information. For example, information may be disclosed when: 1) the individual gives written consent for its disclosure; 2) there is a concern that the individual will likely cause serious physical harm to self or others; or 3) the information concerns conduct involving suspected abuse or neglect of a minor under the age of 18, elders, or individuals with disabilities. Non-identifiable information may be shared by confidential resources for statistical tracking purposes as required by the federal Clery Act. Other information may be shared as required by law.

Jurisdiction of the University of Iowa

a. This policy applies to the education program and activities of the University of Iowa, to conduct that takes place on the campus or on property owned or controlled by the University of Iowa, at University of Iowa–sponsored events, or in buildings owned or controlled by University of Iowa’s recognized student organizations. The respondent must be a member of the University of Iowa’s community, including patients, visitors, vendors, and contractors, in order for its policies to apply.

This policy can also be applicable to the effects of off-campus misconduct that effectively deprive someone of access to the University of Iowa’s educational program, activities, or workplace. The University of Iowa may also extend jurisdiction to off campus and/or to online conduct when the Title IX Coordinator determines that the conduct affects a substantial University of Iowa interest.

b. Regardless of where the conduct occurred, the University of Iowa will address notice/complaints to determine whether the conduct occurred in the context of its employment or educational program or activity and/or has continuing effects on campus or in an off-campus sponsored program or activity. A substantial University of Iowa interest includes:

1) Any action that constitutes a criminal offense as defined by law. This includes, but is not limited to, single or repeat violations of any local, state, or federal law.

2) Any situation in which it is determined that the respondent poses an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student or other individual.

3) Any situation that significantly impinges upon the rights, property, or achievements of oneself or others or significantly breaches the peace and/or causes social disorder; and/or

4) Any situation that is detrimental to the educational interests or mission of the University of Iowa.

c. If the respondent is unknown or is not a member of the University of Iowa community, the Title IX Coordinator will assist the complainant in identifying appropriate campus and local resources and support options and/or, when criminal conduct is alleged, in contacting local or campus law enforcement if the individual would like to file a police report.

Further, even when the respondent is not a member of the University of Iowa’s community, supportive measures, remedies, and resources may be accessible to the complainant by contacting the Title IX Coordinator or a confidential advocate (diversity.uiowa.edu/resources/title-ix-resources/complainant-resources#confidential-resources).

d. All vendors serving the University of Iowa through third-party contracts are subject to the policies and procedures of their employers and to these policies and procedures to which their employer has agreed to be bound by their contracts.

e. When the respondent is enrolled in or employed by another institution, the Title IX Coordinator can assist the complainant in liaising with the appropriate individual at that institution, as it may be possible to allege violations through that institution’s policies.
Similarly, the Title IX Coordinator may be able to assist a student or employee complainant who experiences sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation in an externship/internship or other environment external to the University of Iowa where sexual harassment or sexual misconduct policies and procedures of the facilitating or host organization may give recourse to the complainant.

Time Limits on Reporting

There is no time limitation on providing notice/complaints to the Title IX Coordinator. However, if the respondent is no longer subject to the University of Iowa’s jurisdiction and/or significant time has passed, the ability to investigate, respond, and provide remedies may be more limited or impossible.

Acting on notice/complaints significantly impacted by the passage of time (including, but not limited to, the recission or revision of policy) is at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator, who may document allegations for future reference, offer supportive measures and/or remedies, and/or engage in adaptable resolution or formal action, as appropriate.

When notice/complaint is affected by significant time delay, the university will typically apply the policy in place at the time of the alleged misconduct and the procedures in place at the time of notice/complaint.

Retaliation

Protected activity under this policy includes reporting an incident that may implicate this policy, participating in the grievance process, supporting a complainant or respondent, assisting in providing information relevant to an investigation, and/or acting in good faith to oppose conduct that constitutes a violation of this policy.

Acts of alleged retaliation should be reported immediately to the Title IX Coordinator and will be promptly investigated. The University of Iowa is prepared to take appropriate steps to protect individuals who fear that they may be subjected to retaliation.

It is prohibited for the University of Iowa or any member of the University of Iowa’s community to take materially adverse action by intimidating, threatening, coercing, harassing, or discriminating against any individual for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by law or policy, or because the individual has made a report or complaint, testified, assisted, or participated or refused to participate in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing under this policy and procedure.

Charges against an individual for code of conduct violations that do not involve sexual harassment or sexual misconduct but arise out of the same facts or circumstances as a report or complaint, or a report or complaint of sexual harassment, for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by Title IX, constitutes retaliation.

The exercise of rights protected under the First Amendment does not constitute retaliation.

Charging an individual with a code of conduct violation for making a materially false statement in bad faith in the course of a grievance proceeding under this policy and procedure does not constitute retaliation, provided that a determination regarding responsibility, alone, is not sufficient to conclude that any party has made a materially false statement in bad faith.

Mandatory Reporting

All academic or administrative officers (AAOs) are mandated reporters who are required to report actual or suspected sexual harassment (including sexual assault, stalking, and dating and domestic violence), sexual misconduct, or related retaliation to Title IX and Gender Equity within 2 business days.

b. "Academic or administrative officer" includes the following:

1. Collegiate deans (including associate deans and assistant deans);
2. Faculty members with administrative responsibilities at the level of departmental executive officer (DEO) or above;
3. Any staff member whose primary job responsibility is to provide advice regarding a student’s academic pursuits or other university-related activities;
4. Any faculty or staff member serving as departmental (or collegiate) director or coordinator of undergraduate or graduate studies, or as a director or coordinator of any departmental, collegiate, or university off-campus academic program (including any study-abroad program);
5. The President, the Directors of the Office of Institutional Equity, the Title IX Coordinator, the vice presidents (including assistant and associate vice presidents), and the Provost (including assistant and associate provosts), and those persons’ designees;
6. Directors and supervisors in an employment context, including faculty and staff who supervise student employees, in relation to matters involving the employees they supervise (other than Department of Public Safety personnel when receiving criminal complaints or reports); and
7. Human resources representatives (including all central University Human Resources staff).

Any academic or administrative officer of the university who observes sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation, or who becomes aware of allegations of such behavior through a report from a complainant or third party shall take the actions described in this section, even if the complainant does not wish any action to be taken, and must notify Title IX and Gender Equity of the allegations within 2 business days.

b. The AAO must:

1. Inform the complainant or third-party reporter of the options available under this policy (i.e., support measures, formal complaint, adaptable resolution) and that certified victim advocacy services are available from the Rape Victim Advocacy Program or the Domestic Violence Intervention Program; and,
2. Provide notice of the allegations to Title IX and Gender Equity within 2 business days; and
3. When the alleged prohibited conduct occurs in the context of the respondent’s employment, provide notice of the allegations to the Senior Human Resources Leadership Representative or Associate Dean for Faculty of the unit in which the alleged conduct occurred or, when incidents do not occur within a unit, notify the Senior Human Resources Leadership Representative or Associate Dean for Faculty of the respondent.

c. In order to make informed choices, it is important to be aware of confidentiality and mandatory reporting requirements when consulting campus resources. On campus, some resources may maintain confidentiality and are not required to report actual or suspected sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation. They may offer options and resources without any obligation to inform an outside agency or campus official unless a complainant has requested the information be shared.

If a complainant expects formal action in response to their allegations, reporting to any AAO can connect them with resources to report crimes and/or policy violations, and these employees within 2 business days to the Title IX Coordinator (and/or police, if desired by the complainant), who will take action when an incident is reported to them.

The following sections describe the reporting options at the University of Iowa for a complainant or third party:
Complainant's wishes. If a complainant would like the details of an incident to be kept confidential, the complainant may speak with:

(a) Office of the Ombudsperson (for faculty, other instructors, staff, or students), 308 Jefferson Building;
(b) Employee Assistance Program (for faculty or staff), 121-50 University Services Building;
(c) University Counseling Service (for students), 3223 Westlawn;
(d) Women's Resource and Action Center (for faculty, other instructors, staff, students, or visitors), Bowman House;
(e) Rape Victim Advocacy Program (certified advocates) (for faculty, other instructors, staff, students, or visitors), 108 River Street;
(f) Domestic Violence Intervention Program (certified advocates) (for faculty, other instructors, staff, students, or visitors), 1105 South Gilbert Court, Iowa City.

All of the above-listed individuals will maintain confidentiality when acting under the scope of their licensure, professional ethics, and/or professional credentials, except in extreme cases of immediacy of threat or danger or abuse of a minor/elder/individual with a disability, or when required to disclose by law or court order.

(2) Academic and administrative officers and formal notice/complaints. All University of Iowa academic and administrative officers (AAO) are mandated reporters and must promptly share with the Title IX Coordinator/Title IX and Gender Equity all known details of a report made to them.

Complainants may want to carefully consider whether they share personally identifiable details with non-confidential AAOs as those details must be shared with the Title IX Coordinator.

Generally, disclosures in climate surveys, classroom writing assignments or discussions, human subjects research, or at events such as "Take Back the Night" marches or speak-outs do not provide notice that must be reported to the Coordinator by employees, unless the complainant clearly indicates that they desire a report to be made or seek a specific response from the University of Iowa.

Supportive measures may be offered as the result of such disclosures without formal University of Iowa action.

Failure of an AAO, as described above in this section, to report an incident of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation of which they become aware is a violation of University of Iowa policy and can be subject to disciplinary action for failure to comply.

When A Complainant Does Not Wish to Proceed.

If a complainant does not wish for an investigation to take place, or does not want a formal complaint to be pursued, they may make such a request to the Title IX Coordinator, who will evaluate that request in light of the duty to ensure the safety of the campus and to comply with state or federal law.

The Title IX Coordinator has ultimate discretion over whether the University of Iowa proceeds when the complainant does not wish to do so, and the Title IX Coordinator may sign a formal complaint to initiate a grievance process.

Compelling reasons to initiate a grievance process may result from evidence of patterns of misconduct, predatory conduct, threats, abuse of minors, use of weapons, and/or violence. The University of Iowa may be compelled to act on alleged employee misconduct irrespective of a complainant’s wishes.

The Title IX Coordinator must also consider the effect that non-participation by the complainant may have on the availability of evidence and the University of Iowa's ability to pursue a formal grievance process fairly and effectively.

When the Title IX Coordinator executes the written complaint, they do not become the complainant. The complainant is the individual who is alleged to be the victim of conduct that could constitute a violation of this policy.

When the University of Iowa proceeds, the complainant may have as much or as little involvement in the process as they wish. The complainant retains all rights of a complainant under this policy irrespective of their level of participation.

The University of Iowa’s ability to remedy and respond to notice may be limited if the complainant does not want the University of Iowa to proceed with an investigation and/or grievance process. The goal is to provide the complainant with as much control over the process as possible, while balancing the University of Iowa’s obligation to protect its community.

In cases in which the complainant requests confidentiality or no formal action and the circumstances allow the University of Iowa to honor that request, the University of Iowa will offer adaptable resolution options (see below), supportive measures, and remedies to the complainant and the community, but will not otherwise pursue formal action.

If the complainant elects to take no action, they can change that decision if they decide to pursue a formal complaint at a later date. Upon making a formal complaint, a complainant has the right, and can expect, to have allegations taken seriously by the University of Iowa, and to have the incidents investigated and properly resolved through these procedures.

Amnesty for Complainants and Witnesses

The University of Iowa community encourages the reporting of misconduct and crimes by complainants and witnesses. Sometimes, complainants or witnesses are hesitant to report to University of Iowa officials or participate in grievance processes because they fear that they themselves may be in violation of certain policies, such as underage drinking or use of illicit drugs at the time of the incident. Respondents may hesitate to be forthcoming during the process for the same reasons.

It is in the best interests of the University of Iowa community that complainants choose to report misconduct to University of Iowa officials, that witnesses come forward to share what they know, and that all parties be forthcoming during the process.

To encourage reporting and participation in the process, the University of Iowa maintains a policy of offering parties and witnesses amnesty from minor policy violations — such as underage consumption of alcohol or the use of illicit drugs — related to the incident.

Amnesty does not apply to more serious allegations such as physical abuse of another or illicit drug distribution. The decision not to offer amnesty to a respondent is based on neither sex nor gender, but on the fact that collateral misconduct is typically addressed for all students within a progressive discipline system, and the rationale for amnesty — the incentive to report serious misconduct — is rarely applicable to the respondent with respect to a complainant.

Sometimes, students are hesitant to assisting others for fear that they may get in trouble themselves (for example, an underage student who has been drinking or using marijuana might hesitate to help take an individual who has experienced sexual misconduct to the Department of Public Safety). The University of Iowa maintains a policy of amnesty for students who offer help to others in need. While policy violations cannot be overlooked, the University of Iowa may provide purely educational options with no official disciplinary finding, rather than punitive sanctions, to those who offer their assistance to others in need.

Procedure Overview

The University of Iowa will act on any notice or complaint of a violation of the policy that is received by the Title IX Coordinator1 or any other academic or administrative officer by applying these procedures, which include three possible methods for resolution known as Process A, Process B, and adaptable resolution.

The procedures below apply to all allegations of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation involving students, staff, faculty, or visitors. Process B will be used to resolve formal complaints involving patients of University of Iowa Health Care. A set of dismissal requirements within the Title IX regulations may apply as described below, but when a Title IX dismissal occurs, any remaining allegations may proceed using these same grievance procedures, clarifying which aspects of the policy are applicable.

(1) Process A is a formal grievance process that includes an investigation and live hearing.
(2) Process B is a formal grievance process that includes an investigation and does not include a live hearing.
(3) An adaptable resolution includes resolving a complaint informally.

The procedures below may be used to address related misconduct arising from the investigation of or occurring in conjunction with reported misconduct (e.g., vandalism, physical abuse of another). All other allegations of misconduct unrelated to incidents covered by the policy will be addressed through procedures elaborated in the Student Accountability Procedure, Faculty Dispute Procedures (III-29), Office of Institutional Equity Discrimination Complaint Procedures, or procedures noted in this Operations Manual.

Notice/complaint

Upon receipt of a complaint or notice to the Title IX Coordinator of an alleged violation of the policy, the University of Iowa initiates a prompt initial assessment to determine the next steps the University of Iowa needs to take.

The University of Iowa will initiate at least one of three responses:

(1) Offering supportive measures because the complainant does not want to proceed formally and/or
(2) An adaptable resolution; and/or
(3) A formal grievance process in accordance with Process A or Process B based on the following considerations:

(a) Process A applies in cases involving students, staff, faculty, or visitors where the alleged behavior meets the definition of sexual harassment as defined in the U.S. Department of Education Title IX Regulation 106.30. Process A also applies when the alleged sexual harassment or sexual misconduct, if true, could result in a student being suspended or expelled from the University of Iowa.

(b) Process B applies in cases involving students, staff, faculty, or visitors where the alleged behavior falls outside the definition of sexual harassment as defined by Title IX regulation, but nonetheless does meet the definition of prohibited behavior within the Policy on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct and, if true, would not result in a student being suspended or expelled.

Both formal grievance processes will determine whether or not the policy has been violated. If so, the University of Iowa will promptly implement remedies to ensure that it is not deliberately indifferent to harassment, its potential recurrence, or its effects. Both formal grievance processes also provide the respondent the opportunity to accept responsibility for violating the policy as charged at any point prior to the issuance of the notice of outcome.

Initial assessment

Following receipt of notice or a complaint of an alleged violation of the Policy on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct, the Title IX Coordinator engages in an initial assessment, which is typically 1 to 5 business days in duration. The steps in an initial assessment can include:

(1) The Title IX Coordinator reaches out to the complainant to offer supportive measures and explain resolution options.
(2) The Title IX Coordinator works with the complainant to ensure they are aware of the right to have an advisor.
(3) If a formal complaint is received, the Title IX Coordinator assesses its sufficiency and works with the complainant to make sure it is correctly completed.
(4) The Title IX Coordinator works with the complainant to determine whether the complainant prefers a supportive response, an adaptable resolution option, or a formal investigation and grievance process.

(a) If only supportive measures are preferred, the Title IX Coordinator works with the complainant to identify their wishes and then seeks to facilitate implementation. No formal grievance process is initiated, though the complainant can elect to initiate one later, if desired.

(b) If an adaptable resolution is preferred, the Title IX Coordinator determines in consultation with the investigator if the misconduct alleged falls within the scope of the Policy on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct, assesses whether the complaint is suitable for adaptable resolution, assesses which adaptable mechanism may serve the situation best or is available, and may seek to determine if the respondent is also willing to engage in an adaptable resolution.

(c) If a formal grievance process is preferred, the Title IX Coordinator determines in consultation with the investigator if the misconduct alleged falls within the scope of the Policy on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct:

(i) If it does, the Title IX Coordinator will initiate the formal investigation and grievance process under Process A or Process B, directing the investigation to address:

(A) An incident, and/or
(B) A pattern of alleged misconduct, and/or
(C) A culture/climate issue, based on the nature of the complaint.

(ii) If it does not, the Title IX Coordinator will determine if the complaint should be referred to the Office of Student Accountability, the Equity Investigations unit, or Human Resources staff for resolution under another policy.

(d) If the complainant does not wish to make a formal complaint, the Title IX Coordinator determines whether to initiate a complaint because of indicators that suggest a compelling threat to campus or to the health and/or safety of campus members.

(5) Title IX dismissal (mandatory and discretionary). The U.S. Department of Education Title IX regulations require that schools clearly differentiate in their process whether a complaint is subject to the protections afforded under Title IX. The regulations use the term “dismissal” to indicate that something has been determined outside the scope of Title IX. If a complaint is dismissed under Title IX, it may still be resolved through a formal grievance process (Process A or
The University of Iowa is obligated to ensure that the grievance process is not abused for retaliatory purposes. The University of Iowa permits the filing of counterclaims but uses an initial assessment, described above, to assess whether the allegations in the counterclaim are made in good faith. Counterclaims by the respondent may be made in good faith, but are, on occasion, also made for purposes of retaliation. Counterclaims not made in good faith will result in complaint dismissal.

Counterclaims determined to have been reported in good faith will be processed using the grievance procedures below. Investigation of such claims may take place after resolution of the underlying initial allegation, in which case a delay may occur.

Counterclaims may also be resolved through the same investigation as the underlying allegation, at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator or the investigator. When counterclaims are not made in good faith, they will be considered retaliatory and may constitute a violation of this policy.

Right to Advisors

Parties have a right to receive support and advice throughout the university’s resolution process. They may have up to two people providing these services who may attend all meetings and interviews at which the party is entitled to be present. The university has identified the following roles to meet this need.

1. Support advisor:
   a. May be a friend, victim advocate, mentor, family member, or any other individual a party chooses to support them throughout the resolution process.
   b. May be present with their advisee, at the advisee’s discretion, at all stages of the process.
   c. May ask for breaks or other assistance on behalf of the advisee, but not permitted to ask or answer questions or provide information on any substantive issues of the complaint.
   d. Someone who serves as a support advisor is not permitted to serve as a witness.

2. Hearing advisor:
   a. May be a friend, mentor, family member, attorney, or any other individual a party chooses to advise them related to the hearing. The parties may choose a hearing advisor from outside of the university or one will be provided to them from the university pool.
   b. Primary role is to ask questions of parties and witnesses at the hearing in consultation with the advisee.
   c. Participates only in the hearing and meetings related to the hearing.
   d. Is not permitted to speak on behalf of the advisee outside the context of asking questions at the hearing.
   e. Someone who serves as a hearing advisor is not permitted to serve as a witness.

3. Legal advisor:
   a. Complainants and respondents may have a legal advisor throughout the process. Legal advisors are not provided by the university.
   b. May be present with their advisee, at the party’s discretion, at all stages of the process.
   c. If attending hearing, will serve as hearing advisor.
   d. At the hearing, legal advisors may not communicate on behalf of their client outside the context of asking questions.
   e. Someone who serves as a legal advisor is not permitted to serve as a witness.

4. Hearing advisors/University of Iowa–appointed advisor.
   a. The university may select whoever they wish to serve as their advisors as long as the advisors are willing, eligible and available.

The University of Iowa is obligated to ensure that the grievance process is not abused for retaliatory purposes. The University of Iowa permits the filing of counterclaims but uses an initial assessment, described above, to assess whether the allegations in the counterclaim are made in good faith. Counterclaims by the respondent may be made in good faith, but are, on occasion, also made for purposes of retaliation. Counterclaims not made in good faith will result in complaint dismissal.

Counterclaims determined to have been reported in good faith will be processed using the grievance procedures below. Investigation of such claims may take place after resolution of the underlying initial allegation, in which case a delay may occur.

Counterclaims may also be resolved through the same investigation as the underlying allegation, at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator or the investigator. When counterclaims are not made in good faith, they will be considered retaliatory and may constitute a violation of this policy.
for the limited purpose of asking questions of the parties and witnesses at a hearing.

The University of Iowa cannot guarantee equal advisory rights, meaning that if one party selects an advisor who is an attorney, but the other party does not, the University of Iowa is not obligated to provide an attorney.

A party may reject this appointment and choose their own advisor, but they may not proceed without a hearing advisor. If the party’s hearing advisor will not conduct cross-examination, the University of Iowa will appoint an advisor who will do so, regardless of the participation or nonparticipation of the advised party in the hearing itself. Questioning of the parties and witnesses will also be conducted by the adjudicator during the hearing.

Communications between a university-appointed advisor and their advisee are confidential for purposes of this administrative process; however, such communications may be subject to disclosure pursuant to court order or other legal process. University-appointed advisors do not provide legal advice, even if the appointed advisor has a license to practice law.

(5) Expectations of advisors. The University of Iowa generally expects an advisor to adjust their schedule to allow them to attend University of Iowa meetings when planned, but may change scheduled meetings to accommodate an advisor’s inability to attend, if doing so does not cause an unreasonable delay.

The University of Iowa may also make reasonable provisions to allow an advisor who cannot attend in person to attend a meeting by telephone, video conferencing, or other similar technologies, as may be convenient and available.

Advisors should help the parties prepare for each meeting and are expected to advise ethically, with integrity, and in good faith.

All advisors are subject to the University of Iowa’s policies and procedures, whether they are university-appointed or not. Advisors are expected to advise their advisees without disrupting proceedings. Advisors should not address University of Iowa officials in a meeting or interview unless invited to (e.g., asking procedural questions). The advisor may not make a presentation or represent their advisee during any meeting or proceeding and may not speak on behalf of the advisee to the investigator(s) or adjudicator except during a hearing proceeding, during cross-examination.

The parties are expected to ask and respond to questions on their own behalf throughout the investigation phase of the resolution process. Although an advisor generally may not speak on behalf of their advisee, the advisor may consult with their advisee, either privately as needed, or by conferring or passing notes during any resolution process meeting or interview. For longer or more involved discussions, the parties and their advisors should ask for breaks to allow for private consultation.

Any advisor who oversteps their role as defined by this policy will be warned only once. If the advisor continues to disrupt or otherwise fails to respect the limits of the advisor role, the meeting will be ended, or other appropriate measures implemented, including that the University of Iowa may require the party to use a different advisor. Subsequently, the Title IX Coordinator will determine how to address the advisor’s non-compliance and future role.

(6) Sharing Information with advisors. The University of Iowa expects that the parties may wish to have the university share documentation and evidence related to the allegations with their advisors. Parties may share this information directly with their advisor or other individuals if they wish. Doing so may help the parties participate more meaningfully in the resolution process.

The university requires a consent and privacy form that authorizes the University of Iowa to share such information directly with their advisor. The parties must either complete and submit the form to the Title IX Coordinator or provide similar documentation demonstrating consent to a release of information to the advisor before University of Iowa is able to share records with an advisor.

If a party requests that all communication be made through their advisor, the University of Iowa will not comply with that request.

(7) Privacy of records shared with advisors. Advisors are expected to maintain the privacy of the records shared with them. These records may not be shared with third parties, disclosed publicly, or used for purposes not explicitly authorized by the University of Iowa. University of Iowa may seek to restrict the role of any advisor who does not respect the sensitive nature of the process or who fails to abide by the University of Iowa’s privacy expectations.

(8) Expectations of the parties with respect to advisors. A party may elect to change advisors during the process and is not obligated to use the same advisor(s) throughout. The parties are expected to inform the investigator(s) of the identity of their advisor(s) at least 2 business days before the date of their first meeting with investigators.

The parties are expected to provide timely notice to the Title IX Coordinator if they change advisors at any time. Once notified of a change in advisors, consent to share information with the previous advisor is terminated, and a release for the new advisor must be provided. Parties are expected to inform the Title IX Coordinator of the identity of their hearing advisor at least 2 business days before the hearing.

As a public entity, the University of Iowa fully respects and accords the Weingarten rights of employees (https://hr.uiowa.edu/support/laborunion-relations/weingarten-rights-employees). For parties who are entitled to union representation, the University of Iowa will allow the unionized employee to have their union representative (if requested by the party) as well as an advisor of their choice present for all resolution-related meetings and interviews. To uphold the principles of equity, the other party (regardless of union membership) will also be permitted to have two advisors. Witnesses are not permitted to have union representation or advisors in grievance process interviews or meetings.

Adaptable Resolution

Adaptable resolution is an alternative to the formal grievance process by which a mutually-agreed-upon resolution of an allegation is reached. All parties must consent to the use of an adaptable resolution. Adaptable resolution is not available to resolve allegations by a student against an employee for sexual harassment as defined in Section 106.3 of the Department of Education Title IX regulations. Resolution proceedings are private. All persons present at any time during the resolution process are expected to maintain the privacy of the proceedings in accordance with university policy. While there is an expectation of privacy around what adaptable resolution facilitators share with parties during meetings, the parties have discretion to share their own knowledge and evidence with others if they so choose. The University of Iowa encourages parties to discuss this with their advisors before doing so.

(1) Adaptable resolution options. Adaptable resolution can include three different approaches:
   (a) When the parties agree to resolve the matter through a mechanism like mediation, restorative practices, etc.;
   (b) When the respondent accepts responsibility for violating policy, and desires to accept a sanction and end the formal grievance process; or
   (c) When the parties reach a resolution through shuttle diplomacy.

To initiate an adaptable resolution, a complainant needs to submit a formal complaint, as defined above. If a respondent wishes to initiate an adaptable resolution, they should contact the Title IX Coordinator to so indicate. When the Title IX Coordinator makes the formal complaint, the Title IX Coordinator may initiate an adaptable resolution with the respondent.

If a complainant wants to initiate an adaptable resolution, but the respondent declines to participate, the complainant may opt to use the formal grievance process. If a respondent wants to initiate an adaptable resolution upon receiving notice of a complaint, but the complainant declines to participate, the formal grievance process will continue. If the Title IX Coordinator wants to initiate an adaptable resolution, but the respondent declines to participate, the formal grievance process will continue.

It is not necessary to pursue an adaptable resolution first in order to pursue a formal grievance process, and any party participating in an adaptable resolution can stop the process at any time and begin or resume the formal grievance process.

Prior to implementing the adaptable resolution, the University of Iowa will provide the parties with written notice of the complaint and any consequences or measures that may result from participating in such a process, including information regarding any records that will be maintained or shared by the University of Iowa.

The University of Iowa will obtain voluntary, written confirmation that all parties wish to resolve the matter through the adaptable resolution process before proceeding and will not pressure the parties to participate. When the Title IX Coordinator makes the formal complaint and initiates the adaptable resolution process, the Title IX Coordinator may consult with and inform any non-participating complainant about the adaptable resolution.

(2) Considerations for proceeding with an adaptable resolution. The Title IX Coordinator may look to the following factors to assess whether an adaptable resolution is appropriate, or which form of resolution may be most successful for the parties:
   (a) The parties’ amenability to adaptable resolution;
   (b) Likelihood of potential resolution, taking into account any power dynamics between the parties;
   (c) The parties’ motivation to participate;
   (d) Civility of the parties;
   (e) Ongoing safety and risk analysis;
   (f) Disciplinary history;
   (g) Whether an emergency removal is needed;
   (h) Availability of an adaptable resolution facilitator with the needed skills to assist with the complaint;
   (i) Complaint complexity;
   (j) Goals of the parties;
   (k) Adequate resources to invest in adaptable resolution (time, staff, etc.)

The ultimate determination of whether adaptable resolution is available or successful is to be made by the Title IX Coordinator or designee. The Title IX Coordinator maintains records of any resolution that is reached, and failure to abide by the resolution agreement may result in appropriate responsive/disciplinary actions. Results of complaints resolved by adaptable resolution are not appealable.

(3) Restorative practices, mediation, etc. (to be developed post interim period).

(4) Respondent. The respondent may accept responsibility for all of the alleged policy violations at any point during the resolution process, prior to a notice of outcome (Process A or Process B). If the respondent indicates an intent to accept responsibility for all of the alleged misconduct, the formal process will be paused, and the Title IX Coordinator will determine whether adaptable resolution can be used according to the criteria in that section above.

If adaptable resolution is applicable, the Title IX Coordinator will determine whether all parties and the University of Iowa are able to agree on responsibility, sanctions, and/or remedies. If so, the Title IX Coordinator implements the accepted finding that the respondent is in violation of University of Iowa policy and implements agreed-upon sanctions and/or remedies, in coordination with other appropriate administrator(s), as necessary.

This result is not subject to appeal once all parties indicate their written assent to all agreed-upon terms of resolution. When the parties cannot agree on all terms of resolution, the formal grievance process will resume at the same point where it was paused.

When a resolution is accomplished, the appropriate sanction or responsive actions are promptly implemented in order to effectively stop the harassment or discrimination, prevent its recurrence, and remedy the effects of the discriminatory conduct, both on the complainant and the community.

(5) Shuttle diplomacy. The Title IX Coordinator or the adaptable resolution facilitator, with the consent of the parties, may negotiate and implement an agreement to resolve the allegations that satisfies all parties and the University of Iowa. Negotiated resolutions are not appealable.

A negotiated resolution, reached through shuttle diplomacy, is a voluntary agreement between the parties to a resolution that addresses the party’s concerns. The process starts with a proposed resolution from either party. The facilitator brings the proposed resolution to the other party for consideration. The party receiving the proposal may accept the resolution with no alterations, may propose alterations, conditions, or additional terms, or may reject the proposal outright and make a counterproposal. Proposed alterations, or the addition of conditions or terms, function as a rejection of the initial proposal and the creation of a counterproposal.

The facilitator will continue to bring counterproposals between parties until one of these conditions is met:
   (a) The parties achieve a mutually agreeable resolution;
   (b) One of the parties withdraws from participation;
   (c) The facilitator determines that an impasse has been reached.

The facilitator remains neutral between the parties. During the process, the facilitator may assist the parties in developing the terms of the resolution and may assist the parties in obtaining information from relevant units on the workability of proposed terms if they affect a party in a university context such as employment, the academic setting, or university housing.

When the process is concluded, the facilitator will memorialize the outcome in a memorandum to both parties. If the parties achieved a mutually agreeable resolution, the Title IX Coordinator will review the memorandum to ensure compliance with university policy. If the resolution conflicts with university policy, or is deemed unworkable, the parties may continue to work with the facilitator to negotiate a resolution as described above.

(6) When the process is concluded, the facilitator will memorialize the outcome in a memorandum to both parties. If the parties achieved a mutually agreeable resolution, the Title IX Coordinator will review the memorandum to ensure it is workable and compliant with university policy. If the resolution conflicts with university policy, or is deemed unworkable, the parties may continue to work with the facilitator to negotiate a resolution as described above.

Grievance Process Pool
The formal grievance process relies on a pool of administrators ("the pool") to carry out the process. Members of the pool are announced in an annual distribution of this policy to all students, parents/guardians of students, employees, prospective students, and prospective employees. They are also listed in Title IX and Gender Equity's Annual Report. Changes that occur during the year will be updated on the website and included in the following year's distribution.

(1) Pool member roles. Members of the pool are trained annually, and can serve in in the following roles, at the direction of the Title IX Coordinator:
   (a) To provide appropriate intake of and initial guidance pertaining to complaints;
   (b) To act as a university-appointed advisor to the parties during a hearing;
   (c) To serve as an adaptable resolution facilitator;
   (d) To perform or assist with initial assessment;
   (e) To investigate complaints;
   (f) To serve as a hearing facilitator (process administrator, no decision-making role);
   (g) To serve as a hearing adjudicator;
   (h) To serve as an appeal decision maker.

(2) Pool member appointment. The Title IX Coordinator appoints the pool, which acts with independence and impartiality. Appointments may be made to serve in all roles or only in one or more specific role.

Grievance Process Pool members must participate in annual training. A list of those training courses can be found here: diversity.uiowa.edu/resources/tixge-resources/office-civil-rights#title-ix-grievance-process-pool-training

Formal grievance process
The Title IX Coordinator will provide written notice of formal complaint (NOFC) to the respondent upon commencement of the formal grievance process. This facilitates the respondent's ability to prepare for the interview and to identify and choose their own advisor to accompany them. The NOFC is also copied to the complainant.

The NOFC will include:
   (1) A specific and meaningful summary of all allegations,
   (2) The identity of the involved parties (if known),
   (3) The date and location of the alleged incident(s) (if known),
   (4) The specific policies implicated,
   (5) A description of the applicable procedures,

   (6) A statement of the potential sanctions/responsive actions that could result,
   (7) A statement that the University of Iowa presumes the respondent not responsible for the reported misconduct unless and until the evidence supports a different determination,
   (8) A statement that determinations of responsibility are made at the conclusion of the process,
   (9) A statement that the parties will be given an opportunity to inspect and review all directly related and/or relevant evidence obtained during the review and comment period,
   (10) A statement about the University of Iowa’s policy on retaliation,
   (11) Information about the privacy of the process,
   (12) Information on the opportunity for each party to have up to 2 advisors of their choosing and the requirement that parties have a hearing advisor in the event of a hearing
   (13) A statement informing the parties that the University of Iowa’s policy prohibits knowingly making false statements, including knowingly submitting false information during the resolution process,
   (14) Detail on how the party may request disability accommodations during the interview process,
   (15) A link to the University of Iowa’s Resource and Referral Guide,
   (16) The name(s) of the investigator(s), along with a process to identify, in advance of the interview process, to the Title IX Coordinator any conflict of interest that the investigator(s) may have, and
   (17) An instruction to preserve any evidence that is directly related to the allegations.

(18) A statement that the respondent can accept responsibility for violating the policy as charged, and accept sanctions, to end the formal grievance process at any point prior to the issuance of the notice of outcome.

Amendments and updates to the NOFC may be made as the investigation progresses and more information becomes available regarding the addition or dismissal of various charges.

Notice will be made in writing and may be delivered by one or more of the following methods: in person, mailed to the local or permanent address(es) of the parties as indicated in official University of Iowa records, or emailed to the parties’ University of Iowa-issued email or designated accounts. Once mailed, emailed, and/or received in-person, notice will be presumptively delivered.

Resolution timeline
The University of Iowa will make a good faith effort to complete the resolution process within a 90-business-day time period, including appeal, which can be extended as necessary for appropriate cause by the Title IX Coordinator, who will provide notice and rationale for any extensions or delays to the parties as appropriate, as well as an estimate of how much additional time will be needed to complete the process.

Appointment of investigators
Once the decision to commence a formal investigation is made, the Title IX Coordinator appoints pool members to conduct the investigation, usually within 2 business days of determining that an investigation should proceed.

Ensuring impartiality
Any individual materially involved in the administration of the resolution process including the Title IX Coordinator, investigator, and adjudicators may have no actual or apparent conflicts of interest or bias for a party generally, or for a specific complainant or respondent.

The Title IX Coordinator will vet the assigned investigator to ensure impartiality by ensuring there are no actual or apparent conflicts of interest or disqualifying biases. The parties may, at any time during the resolution process, raise a concern regarding bias or conflict of interest, and the Title IX Coordinator will determine whether the concern is reasonable and supportable. If so, another pool member will be assigned and the impact of the bias or conflict, if any, will be remedied. If the source of the conflict of interest or bias is the Title IX Coordinator, concerns should be raised with the President.

The formal grievance process involves an objective evaluation of all relevant evidence obtained, including evidence which supports that the respondent engaged in a policy violation and evidence which supports that the respondent did not engage in a policy violation. Credibility determinations may not be based solely on an individual’s status or participation as a complainant, respondent, or witness.

A respondent is presumed not responsible for the reported misconduct unless and until the respondent is determined to be responsible for a policy violation by the applicable standard of proof.

Investigation timeline

Investigations are completed expeditiously, normally within 60 business days, though some investigations may take weeks or even months, depending on the nature, extent, and complexity of the allegations, availability of witnesses, police involvement, etc. The University of Iowa will make a good-faith effort to complete investigations as promptly as circumstances permit and will communicate regularly with the parties to update them on the progress and timing of the investigation.

Delays in the investigation process and interactions with law enforcement

The University of Iowa may undertake a short delay in its investigation or adaptable resolution (several days to a few weeks) if circumstances require. Such circumstances include, but are not limited to: a request from law enforcement to temporarily delay the investigation, the need for language assistance, the absence of parties and/or witnesses, and/or accommodations for disabilities or health conditions.

The University of Iowa will communicate in writing the anticipated duration of the delay and reason to the parties and provide the parties with status updates if necessary. The University of Iowa will promptly resume its investigation and resolution process as soon as feasible. During such a delay, University of Iowa will implement supportive measures as deemed appropriate.

University of Iowa action(s) are not typically altered or precluded on the grounds that civil or criminal charges involving the underlying incident(s) have been filed or that criminal charges have been dismissed or reduced.

Role of the investigator

All investigations involve interviews with all relevant parties and witnesses; obtaining available, relevant evidence; and identifying sources of expert information, as necessary.

All parties have a full and fair opportunity, through the investigation process, to suggest witnesses and questions, to provide evidence and expert witnesses, and before the investigative report is issued to fully review and respond to all relevant and directly related evidence on the record.

The investigator(s) typically take(s) the following steps, if not already completed (not necessarily in this order):

1. Assist the Title IX Coordinator with conducting a prompt initial assessment to determine if the allegations indicate a potential policy violation.
2. Work with the Title IX Coordinator to identify all policies implicated by the alleged misconduct and notify the complainant and respondent of all of the specific policies implicated.
3. Prepare the initial notice of formal compliant (NOFC). The NOFC may be amended with any additional or dismissed allegations.

Notice should inform the parties of their right to have assistance of an advisor of their choosing, who may be present for all meetings.

4. Commence a thorough, reliable, and impartial investigation by identifying issues and developing a strategic investigation plan, including a witness list, evidence list, intended investigation time frame, and order of interviews for all witnesses and the parties.
5. Meet with the complainant to finalize their interview/statement, if necessary.
6. Meet with the respondent to answer questions and conduct an interview.
7. Allow each party the opportunity to suggest witnesses and questions they wish the investigator(s) to ask of the other party and witnesses, and document in the report which questions were asked, with a rationale for any changes or omissions.
8. Interview all available, relevant witnesses and conduct follow-up interviews as necessary.
9. Take steps to obtain evidence, including electronic or photographic, as applicable.
10. Provide each interviewed party and witness an opportunity to review and suggest corrections to the investigator’s summary notes (or transcript) of the relevant evidence/testimony from their respective interviews and meetings.
11. Complete the investigation promptly and without unreasonable deviation from the intended time line.
12. Write a comprehensive investigation report fully summarizing the investigation, all witness interviews, and addressing all relevant evidence.
   a. May include a summary of observations, assessment of evidence, or factors which may impact credibility for each party and witness.
   b. Appendices, including relevant nontestimonial evidence, will be included.
13. Prior to the conclusion of the investigation, provide the parties and their respective advisors (if so desired by the parties) with a list of witnesses whose information will be used to render a finding.
14. If the formal complaint is resolved using Process A, the investigator(s) gather(s), assess(es), and synthesize(s) evidence, but make no conclusions, engage in no policy analysis, and render no recommendations as part of their report.

Investigators may note which alleged policy violations, in whole or part, lack any evidence to support a conclusion that the policy was or was not violated.

15. If the formal complaint is resolved using Process B, the investigator will prepare a written report and deliver it to the Title IX Coordinator, detailing the determination, rationale, and evidence used in support of their determination as well as any evidence disregarded. If applicable, the written report will also analyze evidence regarding self-defense claims and predominant aggressor claims. This includes findings of fact supporting the determination and conclusions regarding the application of the policy to the facts. Additionally, the investigator’s report will include credibility assessments and any sanctioning recommendation. The determination will be based on the preponderance-of-evidence standard.
Prior to the conclusion of the investigation, provide the parties and their respective advisors (if so desired by the parties) a secured electronic copy of the draft investigation report as well as an opportunity to inspect and review all of the evidence obtained as part of the investigation that is directly related to the reported misconduct, including evidence upon which the university does not intend to rely in reaching a determination, for a 10-business-day review and comment period so that each party may meaningfully respond to the evidence.

(a) The parties may elect to waive the full 10 days.
(b) The investigator(s) may elect to respond in writing in the investigation report to the parties’ submitted responses and/or to share the responses between the parties for additional responses.

The investigator(s) will note relevant elements of the parties’ written responses into the final investigation report, include any additional relevant evidence, make any necessary revisions, and finalize the report. The investigator(s) should document all rationales for any changes made after the review and comment period.

The investigator(s) share(s) the report with the Title IX Coordinator for their review and feedback. The investigator will incorporate any relevant feedback, and the final report is then shared with all parties and their advisors through secure electronic transmission at least 10 business days prior to a hearing. The parties are also provided with a file of any directly related evidence that was not included in the report. The investigator will consult with the Title IX Coordinator when they believe all or part of a complaint should be dismissed based on dismissal provisions defined above in II-4.23(c)(5) or II-4.23(c)(6).

Role and participation of witnesses in the investigation

Witnesses (as distinguished from the parties) who are employees of the University of Iowa are expected to cooperate with and participate in the University of Iowa’s investigation and resolution process.

While in-person interviews for parties and all potential witnesses are ideal, circumstances (e.g., study abroad, summer break, work arrangements) may require individuals to be interviewed remotely. Skype, Zoom, FaceTime, WebEx, or similar technologies may be used for interviews if the investigator(s) determines that timeliness or efficiency dictate a need for remote interviewing. The University of Iowa will take appropriate steps to reasonably ensure the security/privacy of remote interviews.

Witnesses may also provide written statements in lieu of interviews or choose to respond to written questions, if deemed appropriate by the investigator(s), though not preferred.

Recording of interviews

No unauthorized audio or video recording of any kind is permitted during investigation meetings. If investigator(s) elect to audio and/or video record interviews, all involved parties must be made aware of audio and/or video recording.

Evidentiary considerations in the investigation

Evidence regarding self-defense claims and predominant aggressor claims may be considered relevant. The investigation does not consider: 1) incidents not directly related to the possible violation, unless they evidence a pattern; 2) the character of the parties; or 3) questions and evidence about the complainant’s prior sexual behavior, unless such questions and evidence about the complainant’s prior sexual behavior are offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the conduct alleged by the complainant, or if the questions and evidence concern specific incidents of the complainant’s prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent.

Referral for hearing

Provided that the complaint is not dismissed, resolved through Process B, or resolved through an adaptable resolution, or that the respondent has not accepted responsibility for violating the policy as charged, once the final investigation report is shared with the parties, the Title IX Coordinator will refer the matter for a hearing. The Title IX Coordinator will select an appropriate adjudicator from the pool.

The hearing cannot be less than 10 business days from the conclusion of the investigation — when the final investigation report is transmitted to the parties and the adjudicator — unless all parties and the adjudicator agree to an expedited timeline.

Hearing adjudicator

The University of Iowa will designate an adjudicator from the pool, at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator.

The adjudicator will not have had any previous involvement with the investigation. The Title IX Coordinator may elect to have an alternate from the pool sit in throughout the resolution process in the event that a substitute is needed for any reason.

Those who have served as investigators will be witnesses in the hearing and therefore may not serve as adjudicators. Those who are serving as advisors for any party may not serve as the adjudicator in that matter.

The Title IX Coordinator may not serve as an adjudicator in the matter but may serve as an administrative facilitator of the hearing if their previous role(s) in the matter do not create a conflict of interest. Otherwise, a designee may fulfill this role. The hearing will convene at a time determined by the Title IX Coordinator.

Evidentiary considerations in the hearing

Evidence regarding self-defense claims and predominant aggressor claims may be considered relevant. Any evidence that the adjudicator determines is relevant and credible may be considered. The hearing does not consider: 1) incidents not directly related to the possible violation, unless they evidence a pattern; 2) the character of the parties; or 3) questions and evidence about the complainant’s prior sexual behavior, unless such questions and evidence about the complainant’s prior sexual behavior are offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the conduct alleged by the complainant, or if the questions and evidence concern specific incidents of the complainant’s prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent.

After post-hearing deliberation, the adjudicator renders a determination, based on the preponderance of the evidence, whether it is more likely than not that the respondent violated the policy as alleged.

Notice of hearing

No less than 10 business days prior to the hearing, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will send notice of the hearing to the parties. Once mailed, emailed, and/or received in-person, notice will be presumptively delivered.

The notice will contain:

1. A description of the alleged violation(s), a list of all policies allegedly violated, a description of the applicable procedures, and a statement of the potential sanctions/responsive actions that could result.
2. A description of how a party may request to move to an adaptable resolution
3. A statement that the respondent can accept responsibility for violating the policy as charged, accept sanctions, and end the formal grievance process at any point prior to the issuance of the notice of outcome.
4. The time, date, and location of the hearing.
Alternative hearing participation options

If a party or parties prefer not to attend or cannot attend the hearing in person, the party should request alternative arrangements from the Title IX Coordinator at least 5 business days prior to the hearing.

The Title IX Coordinator or the hearing facilitator can arrange to use technology to allow remote testimony without compromising the fairness of the hearing. Remote options may also be needed for witnesses who cannot appear in person. Any witness who cannot attend in person should let the Title IX Coordinator or the hearing facilitator know at least 5 business days prior to the hearing so that appropriate arrangements can be made.

Pre-hearing preparation

The adjudicator, after any necessary consultation with the parties, investigator(s), and/or Title IX Coordinator, will provide the names of persons who will be participating in the hearing, all pertinent non-testimonial evidence, and the final investigation report to the parties at least 10 business days prior to the hearing.

Any witness scheduled to participate in the hearing must have been first interviewed by the investigator(s) (or have proffered a written statement or answered written questions), unless all parties and the adjudicator assent to the witness’s participation in the hearing. The same holds for any evidence that is first offered at the hearing. If the parties and adjudicator do not assent to the admission of evidence newly offered at the hearing, the adjudicator will delay the hearing and instruct that the investigation needs to be reopened to consider that evidence.

All objections to any adjudicator must be raised in writing, detailing the rationale for the objection, and must be submitted to the Title IX Coordinator as soon as possible and no later than 2 business days prior to the pre-hearing meeting. Adjudicators will only be removed if the Title IX Coordinator concludes that their bias or conflict of interest precludes an impartial hearing of the allegation(s).

Any adjudicator who cannot make an objective determination must recuse themselves from the proceedings when notified of the identity of the parties, witnesses, and advisors in advance of the hearing. If an adjudicator is unsure of whether a bias or conflict of interest exists, they must raise the concern to the Title IX Coordinator as soon as possible.

During the 10-business-day period prior to the hearing, the parties have the opportunity for continued review and written comment on the final investigation report and available evidence. That review and comment can be shared with the adjudicator at the pre-hearing meeting or at the hearing and will be exchanged between each party by the adjudicator.

Hearing procedures

At the hearing, the adjudicator has the authority to hear and make determinations on all allegations of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation, and may also hear and make determinations on any additional alleged policy violations that have occurred in concert with the sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or related retaliation, even though those related allegations may not specifically fall within the Policy on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct. The adjudicator also has the authority to determine non-Title IX sexual misconduct violations that would result in suspension or expulsion; see paragraph II-4.23b(3)(a).

Participants at the hearing will include the adjudicator, the hearing facilitator, the investigator(s) who conducted the investigation, the parties (or up to three organizational representatives when an organization is the respondent), advisors to the parties, any called witnesses, and anyone providing authorized accommodations or assistive services. Non-party witnesses are not allowed in the hearing except to testify.
The adjudicator will answer all questions of procedure. Anyone appearing at the hearing to provide information will respond to questions on their own behalf.

The adjudicator will allow witnesses who have relevant information to appear at a portion of the hearing in order to respond to specific questions from the adjudicator and the parties and will then be excused.

Joint hearings

In hearings involving more than one respondent or in which two or more complainants have accused the same individual of substantially similar conduct, the default procedure will be to hear the allegations jointly.

However, the Title IX Coordinator may permit the investigation and/or hearings pertinent to each respondent to be conducted separately if there is a compelling reason to do so. In joint hearings, separate determinations of responsibility will be made for each respondent with respect to each alleged policy violation.

The order of the hearing

The adjudicator explains the procedures and introduces the participants. The adjudicator, assisted by the hearing facilitator, then conducts the hearing according to the hearing script. They manage the hearing, the recording, witness logistics, party logistics, curation of documents, separation of the parties, and other administrative elements. The hearing facilitator may attend to: logistics of rooms for various parties/witnesses as they wait; flow of parties/witnesses in and out of the hearing space; ensuring recording and/or virtual conferencing technology is working as intended; copying and distributing materials to participants, as appropriate, etc.

The investigator(s) will then present a summary of the final investigation report, including items that are contested and those that are not, and will be subject to questioning by the adjudicator and the parties (through their advisors).

Neither the parties nor the adjudicator should ask the investigator(s) their opinions on credibility, recommended findings, or determinations, and the investigators, advisors, and parties will refrain from discussion of or questions about these assessments. If such information is introduced, the adjudicator will disregard it.

Testimony and questioning

Once the investigator presents their report and is questioned, the parties and witnesses may provide relevant information in turn, beginning with the complainant, and then in the order determined by the adjudicator. The parties/witnesses will submit to questioning by the adjudicator and then by the parties through their hearing advisors.

All questions are subject to a relevance determination by the adjudicator. The hearing advisor, who will remain seated during questioning, will pose the proposed question orally, electronically, or in writing (orally is the default, but other means of submission may be permitted by the adjudicator on request or agreed to by the parties and the adjudicator), the proceeding will pause to allow the adjudicator to consider it, and the adjudicator will determine whether the question will be permitted, disallowed, or rephrased.

The adjudicator may explore arguments regarding relevance with the advisors, if the adjudicator so chooses. The adjudicator will then state their decision on the question for the record and advise the party/witness to whom the question was directed, accordingly. The adjudicator will explain any decision to exclude a question as not relevant, or to reframe it for relevance.

The adjudicator will limit or disallow questions on the basis that they are irrelevant, unduly repetitious (and thus irrelevant), or abusive. The adjudicator has final say on all questions and determinations of relevance, subject to any appeal. The adjudicator may consult with legal counsel on any questions of admissibility. The adjudicator may ask advisors to frame why a question is or is not relevant from their perspective but will not entertain argument from the advisors on relevance once the adjudicator has ruled on a question.

If the parties raise an issue of bias or conflict of interest of an investigator or adjudicator at the hearing, the adjudicator may elect to address those issues, consult with legal counsel, and/or refer them to the Title IX Coordinator, and/or preserve them for appeal. If bias is not in issue at the hearing, the adjudicator should not permit irrelevant questions that probe for bias.

Refusal to submit to cross-examination and inferences

If a party or witness chooses not to submit to questioning at the hearing, either because they do not attend or because they attend but refuse to participate in questioning, the adjudicator has the discretion to consider and assign weight to any relevant prior statement made by that party or witness in reaching a determination regarding responsibility. This includes statements recorded in documents in which the author of the document or the party or witness does not submit to questioning at the live hearing.

The adjudicator may not draw any inference solely from a party’s or witness’s absence from the hearing or refusal to answer questions.

If charges of policy violations other than sexual harassment (as defined in the U.S. Department of Education Title IX Regulation 106.3) are considered at the same hearing, the adjudicator may consider all evidence deemed relevant.

If a party’s advisor of choice refuses to comply with the University of Iowa’s established rules of decorum for the hearing, the University of Iowa may require the party to use a different advisor. If a University of Iowa–provided advisor refuses to comply with the rules of decorum, the University of Iowa may provide that party with a different advisor to conduct cross-examination on behalf of that party.

Recording hearings

Hearings are recorded by the University of Iowa for purposes of review in the event of an appeal. The parties may not record the proceedings and no other unauthorized recordings are permitted.

The adjudicator, the parties, their advisors, and appropriate administrators of the University of Iowa will be permitted to listen to the recording in a controlled environment determined by the Title IX Coordinator. No person will be given or be allowed to make a copy of the recording without permission of the Title IX Coordinator.

Determination and standard of proof

The adjudicator will determine whether the respondent is responsible or not responsible for the policy violation(s) in question. The preponderance-of-the-evidence standard of proof is used. In determining whether to consider and what weight to give statements and documents which were not subject to cross-examination, the adjudicator should assess the totality of the circumstances, including whether there was the opportunity to ask questions during the investigation stage, whether the statement was a contemporaneous recording of the statement, and whether the absence of the opportunity to ask questions during the live hearing seriously impedes fundamental fairness, equitable process, or the ability to adequately assess the credibility of the statements. The adjudicator will prepare a written report and deliver it to the Title IX Coordinator, detailing the determination, rationale, the evidence used in support of its determination as well as any evidence disregarded. This includes findings of fact supporting the determination and conclusions regarding the application of the policy to the facts. If applicable, the written report will also analyze evidence regarding self-defense claims and predominant aggressor claims. Additionally, the adjudicator’s report will include credibility assessments and any sanctioning recommendation. This report typically must be submitted to the Title IX Coordinator within...
7 business days of the end of a hearing, unless the Title IX Coordinator grants an extension. If an extension is granted, the Title IX Coordinator will notify the parties.

Notice of outcome

Using the adjudicator’s report, the investigator’s finding, or a respondent’s acceptance of responsibility for all charges, the Title IX Coordinator will prepare a notice of outcome. When the outcome includes a policy violation, the Title IX Coordinator will work with the sanctioning administrator to issue the notice of outcome. The Title IX Coordinator will then share the notice of outcome, including the determination of responsibility, rationale, and any applicable sanction(s) with the parties and their advisors within 5 business days of receiving the adjudicator’s report (in cases where there is no policy violation in the determination), the sanctioning administrator’s decision, or the investigator’s finding.

The notice of outcome will be shared with the parties simultaneously. Notification will be made in writing and may be delivered by one or more of the following methods: in person, mailed to the local or permanent address of the parties as indicated in official University of Iowa records, or emailed to the parties’ University of Iowa–issued email or otherwise approved account. Once mailed, emailed, and/or received in person, notice will be presumptively delivered.

The notice of outcome will identify the specific policy(ies) reported to have been violated, including the relevant policy section, and will contain a description of the procedural steps taken by the University of Iowa from the receipt of the misconduct report to the determination, including any and all notifications to the parties, interviews with parties and witnesses, site visits, methods used to obtain evidence, and hearings held.

The notice of outcome will specify the finding on each alleged policy violation; the findings of fact that support the determination; conclusions regarding the application of the relevant policy to the facts at issue; a statement of, and rationale for, the result of each allegation to the extent the University of Iowa is permitted to share such information under state or federal law; any sanctions issued which the University of Iowa is permitted to share such information under state or federal law; any sanctions issued which the University of Iowa is permitted to share such information under state or federal law; and any remedies designed to ensure access to the University of Iowa’s educational or employment program or activity, to the extent the University of Iowa is permitted to share such information under state or federal law (this detail is not typically shared with the respondent unless the remedy directly relates to the respondent).

The notice of outcome will also include information on when the results are considered by the University of Iowa to be final, any changes that occur prior to finalization, and the relevant procedures and bases for any available appeal options.

Statement of the rights of the parties.

1. The right to be treated with dignity and respect throughout any process resolving alleged misconduct.
2. The right to be fully informed about the policies and procedures available to address allegations of misconduct.

Sanctions

The Title IX Coordinator will promptly, within 2 business days, transmit the adjudicator’s report. The sanctioning administrator will consult with the Title IX Coordinator and decision maker (investigator or adjudicator) when there is a finding of responsibility on one or more of the allegations.

Factors considered when determining a sanction/responsive action may include, but are not limited to:

1. The nature, severity of, and circumstances surrounding the violation(s);
2. The respondent’s disciplinary history;
3. The need for sanctions/responsive actions to bring an end to the sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation;
4. The need for sanctions/responsive actions to prevent the future recurrence of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation;
5. The need to remedy the effects of the sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation on the complainant and the community;
6. The impact on the parties;
(7) Any other information deemed relevant by the decision makers;

Previous disciplinary action of any kind involving the respondent may be considered in determining an appropriate sanction upon a determination of responsibility. This information is not considered until the sanction stage of the process.

The sanctions will be implemented as soon as is feasible, either upon the outcome of any appeal or the expiration of the window to appeal, if an appeal is not requested.

The sanctions described in this policy are not exclusive of, and may be in addition to, other actions taken or sanctions imposed by external authorities.

Student sanctions.

(8) The following are the usual sanctions7 that may be imposed upon students or organizations singly or in combination:8

(a) Warning: A formal statement that the conduct was unacceptable and a warning that further violation of any University of Iowa policy, procedure, or directive will result in more severe sanctions/responsive actions.

(b) Required counseling or educational program: A mandate to meet with and engage in either University of Iowa–sponsored or external services.

(c) Probation: A written reprimand for violation of institutional policy, providing for more severe disciplinary sanctions in the event that the student or organization is found in violation of any institutional policy, procedure, or directive within a specified period of time. Terms of the probation may include denial of specified social privileges, exclusion from co-curricular activities, exclusion from designated areas of campus, no-contact directives, and/or other measures deemed appropriate.

(d) Suspension: Termination of student status for a definite period of time not to exceed 2 years and/or until specific criteria are met. During a period of suspension, the following notation will appear on the student’s official transcript: “Non-Academic Misconduct—Suspension from [semester] to [semester].” Students who return from suspension are automatically placed on probation through the remainder of their tenure as a student at the University of Iowa.

(e) Expulsion: Permanent termination of student status and revocation of rights to be on campus for any reason or to attend University of Iowa–sponsored events. This sanction will be noted permanently as a “Non-Academic Misconduct—Expulsion” on the student’s official transcript.

(f) Withholding diploma: The University of Iowa may withhold a student’s diploma for a specified period of time and/or deny a student participation in commencement activities if the student has an allegation pending or as a sanction if the student is found responsible for an alleged violation.

(g) Building or facility ban: A directive that prohibits or limits access to a building or facility.

(h) Activity restriction: A directive that prohibits or limits participation in an academic and/or non-academic program or activity.

(i) Organizational sanctions: Deactivation, loss of recognition, loss of some or all privileges (including University of Iowa registration) for a specified period of time.

(j) Other actions: In addition to or in place of the above sanctions, the University of Iowa may assign any other sanctions as deemed appropriate.

For further information see the student sanctioning guidelines: (dos.uiowa.edu/policies/sanctioning-guidelines-for-sexual-assault/)

Employee sanctions.

(9) Responsive actions for an employee who has engaged in sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation include:

(a) Formal written discipline,

(b) Performance improvement/management process,

(c) Required counseling,

(d) Required training or education,

(e) Loss of annual pay increase,

(f) Loss of oversight or supervisory responsibility,

(g) Demotion,

(h) Suspension with pay,

(i) Suspension without pay,

(j) Termination, and

(k) Other actions. In addition to or in place of the above sanctions, the University of Iowa may assign any other sanctions as deemed appropriate.

Withdrawal or resignation while charges are pending

Students:

Should a student respondent permanently withdraw from the University of Iowa, the resolution process typically ends with a complaint dismissal, as the University of Iowa has lost primary disciplinary jurisdiction over the withdrawn student. However, the university may continue the resolution process when, at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator, doing so may be necessary to address safety and/or remedy ongoing effects of the alleged sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or retaliation.

Regardless of whether the complaint is dismissed or pursued to completion of the resolution process, the University of Iowa will continue to address and remedy systemic issues or concerns that may have contributed to the alleged violation(s) and ongoing effects of the alleged sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation. The student who withdraws or leaves while the process is pending is not eligible for re-enrollment as a student nor for employment with the University of Iowa unless specifically authorized for such reentry by the Dean of Students (regarding reentry as a student) or the Chief Human Resources Officer (regarding reentry as an employee), or both (regarding reentry in a dual role), all of which shall occur in consultation with the Title IX Coordinator. Such authorization may be contingent on satisfaction of conditions for reentry. The Office of Institutional Equity will retain the records of the withdrawing student’s status, and that office will notify Admissions, the Office of the Registrar, and University Human Resources of this ineligibility, which applies to all campuses of the University of Iowa. In the event the student reenters without the requisite authorization, such reentry shall be rescinded on its discovery.

If the student respondent withdraws only from a semester or is not currently registered, the resolution process may continue; if found in violation, that student is not permitted to return to the University of Iowa unless and until all sanctions, if any, have been satisfied. Should the student decide to not participate in the resolution process, the process proceeds to a resolution absent their participation.

A student respondent who meets degree requirements after receiving a Notice of Formal Complaint may have a hold placed on their ability to graduate and/or to receive an official transcript/diploma pending resolution of the complaint.

Employees

Should an employee respondent resign with unresolved allegations pending, the resolution process typically ends with a complaint dismissal, as the University of Iowa has lost primary disciplinary jurisdiction over the resigned employee. However, the university may continue the resolution process when, at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator, doing so may be necessary to address safety and/or remedy ongoing effects of the alleged sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or retaliation.

Regardless of whether the complaint is dismissed or pursued to completion of the resolution process, the University of Iowa will continue to address and remedy systemic issues or concerns that may have contributed to the alleged violation(s) and ongoing effects of the alleged sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or retaliation.

The employee who resigns with unresolved allegations pending is not eligible for academic admission or rehire with the University of Iowa unless specifically authorized for such reentry by the Dean of Students (regarding reentry as a student), the Chief Human Resources Officer (regarding reentry as a staff member), the Executive Vice President and Provost (regarding reentry as a faculty member); all of which shall occur in consultation with the Title IX Coordinator. Such authorization may be contingent on satisfaction of conditions for reentry. The Office of Institutional Equity will retain the records of the resigning employee’s status, and that office will notify Admissions, the Office of the Registrar, University Human Resources, and the Executive Vice President and Provost of this ineligibility, which applies to all campuses of the University of Iowa. In the event the employee reenters without the requisite authorization, such reentry shall be rescinded on its discovery.

To the extent practicable, university responses to subsequent inquiries regarding employment references for that individual will include that the former employee resigned with a formal complaint of misconduct pending.

Appeals

Any party may submit a request for appeal. Only requests for appeal submitted in writing to the Title IX Coordinator within 5 days of the delivery of the notice of outcome may be considered under these procedures. The Title IX Coordinator will transmit the request for appeal to the non-appealing party within 2 days of receiving a request for an appeal.

The Title IX Coordinator will deny any request for appeal not timely submitted, as well as any request for appeal that is not based on at least one of the grounds (see paragraph a(2) below).

(1) Appeal officer.
   (a) Student respondent. For cases involving a student respondent that involve suspension or expulsion, the appropriate university office to review the appeal is the Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost. The Provost also reviews cases dismissed by the investigator or adjudicator that would have risen to the level of a suspension or expulsion had the allegations been founded. For all other cases involving a student respondent, the appropriate university office to review the appeal is the Office of the Vice President for Student Life.
   (b) P&S staff, merit staff, or visitor respondent. For cases involving a P&S staff member or visit respondent, the appropriate university office to review the appeal is University Human Resources. For cases involving a merit staff member respondent, the appropriate university office to review the appeal is University Human Resources–Employee and Labor Relations.
   (c) Faculty member respondent. For cases involving a faculty member respondent, the appropriate university office to review the appeal is the Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost.

(2) Grounds for appeal. The Title IX Coordinator will review the request for appeal to determine if the request is based on one of the grounds for appeal. This review is not a review of the merits of the appeal, but solely a determination whether the request is based on at least one of the grounds.

Appeals are limited to the following grounds:

(a) Procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter;
(b) New evidence that was not reasonably available at the time the determination regarding responsibility or dismissal was made, that could affect the outcome of the matter;
(c) The Title IX Coordinator, investigator(s), or adjudicator(s) had a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or the specific complainant or respondent that affected the outcome of the matter, and/or
(d) The decision, whether regarding responsibility or sanction or both, was not supported by substantial evidence when viewed as a whole.

If the request for appeal is not based on the grounds in this policy, it will be denied by the Title IX Coordinator, who will notify the parties and their advisors in writing or email of the denial and the rationale.

(3) Response to appeal. If a timely submitted request for appeal is based on any of the grounds in this policy, then the Title IX Coordinator will notify all party(ies) and their advisors, and, when appropriate, the investigators, adjudicator, and sanctioning administrator that an appeal is proceeding and will provide each of them the request for appeal by mail, email, and/or hard copy as appropriate.

No later than 5 business days after delivery of the appellant’s request for appeal, each of the other party(ies), as well as the investigator, adjudicator, and sanctioning administrator, may submit a response to the portion of the appeal that involves them. All responses will be forwarded by the Title IX Coordinator to all parties.

Once the time to submit a response to appellant’s request for appeal has lapsed, no party may submit any new requests for appeal. The Title IX Coordinator will forward all responses to the appeal officer for consideration with respect to the request for appeal.

(4) Review of appeal record. The appeal officer will consider the following documents as a part of the complete appeal record:
   (a) The request for appeal;
   (b) The case file, including the recording of any hearing; and
   (c) All responses to the notice of appeal.

(5) Appeal outcome. Barring exigent circumstances, the appeal officer will render a decision ("appeal outcome") no later than 10 business days following the appeal officer’s receipt of the complete appeal record.

The appeal outcome will be in writing and will include one or more of the following determinations based on the grounds included in the notice of appeal:

(a) Uphold or reverse, in whole or in part, the decision on responsibility;
(b) Uphold, reverse, or modify disciplinary sanctions, if imposed; and/or
(c) Remand all or part of the matter to remedy procedural errors, including bias or conflict of interest, or consider new evidence (with or without specific direction).

The appeal officer will send the appeal outcome to the Title IX Coordinator, who will send notice of appeal outcome to all parties simultaneously. The notice of appeal outcome will specify the finding on each ground.
Notice of appeal outcome will be made in writing (including email) and may be delivered by one or more of the following methods: in person, mailed to the local or permanent address of the parties as indicated in official institutional records, or emailed to the parties’ university-issued email or otherwise approved account(s). Once mailed, emailed, and/or received in person, notice will be presumptively delivered.

(6) Sanctions status during the appeal. Any sanctions imposed as a result of the hearing are stayed during the appeal process described above. Supportive measures may be reinstated, subject to the same supportive measure procedures above.

If any of the sanctions are to be implemented immediately post-hearing, then emergency removal procedures (detailed above) for doing so must be permitted within 48 hours of implementation.

In cases where the original sanctions included separation, the University of Iowa may place holds on official transcripts, diplomas, graduations, and course registration pending the outcome of an appeal.

(7) Appeal considerations.

(a) Appeals are not intended to provide for a full re-hearing, nor for a de novo review of the evidence of the allegation(s). In most cases, appeals are confined to a review of the written documentation or record of the original hearing and pertinent documentation regarding the specific grounds for appeal.

(b) Decisions on appeal are to be deferential to the original decision, making changes to the finding only when there is clear error and to the sanction(s)/responsive action(s) only if there is a compelling justification to do so.

(c) An appeal is not an opportunity for the appeal officer to substitute their judgment for that of the adjudicator merely because they disagree with the finding and/or sanction(s).

(d) The appeal officer may consult with the Title IX Coordinator on questions of procedure or rationale, for clarification, if needed. Documentation of all such consultation will be maintained by the Title IX Coordinator.

(e) Appeals granted based on new evidence should normally remand the matter to the original investigator(s) and/or adjudicator for consideration of the new evidence.

(f) When appeals result in no change to the finding or sanction, that decision is final. When an appeal results in a new finding or sanction, that finding or sanction may be appealed one final time on the grounds listed above and in accordance with these procedures.

(g) In rare cases where a procedural error cannot be cured by the original adjudicator (as in cases of bias), the appeal may order a new hearing with a new adjudicator.

(h) The results of a new hearing may be appealed, once, on any of the appeal grounds.

(i) In cases in which the appeal results in reinstatement to the University of Iowa or resumption of privileges, all reasonable attempts will be made to restore the respondent to their prior status.

Long term remedies /other actions

Following the conclusion of the resolution process, and in addition to any sanctions implemented, the Title IX Coordinator may implement additional long-term remedies or actions with respect to the parties and/or the campus community that are intended to stop the sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and/or related retaliation, remedy the effects, and prevent reoccurrence.

These remedies/actions may include, but are not limited to:

1. Referral to counseling and health services,
2. Referral to the Employee Assistance Program,
3. Education to the individual and/or the community,
4. Permanent alteration of housing assignments,
5. Permanent alteration of work arrangements for employees,
6. Provision of campus safety escorts,
7. Climate surveys,
8. Policy modification and/or training,
9. Provision of transportation accommodations,
10. Implementation of long-term contact limitations between the parties,
11. Implementation of adjustments to academic deadlines, course schedules, etc.

At the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator, certain long-term support or measures may also be provided to the parties even if no policy violation is found.

When no policy violation is found, the Title IX Coordinator will address any remedies owed by the University of Iowa to the respondent to ensure no effective denial of access to an education program or activity.

The University of Iowa will maintain the privacy of any long-term remedies/actions/measures, provided privacy does not impair the university’s ability to provide these services.

This section refers to the University of Iowa’s Procedure on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct. For the complete procedure and more information go to:

Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking Education and Prevention Programs

The University engages in comprehensive, intentional, and integrated programming, initiatives, strategies, and campaigns intended to end dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking that:

- Are culturally relevant, inclusive of diverse communities and identities, sustainable, responsive to community needs, and informed by research, or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome; and

- Consider environmental risk and protective factors as they occur on the individual, relationship, institutional, community and societal levels.

Educational programming consists of primary prevention and awareness programs for all incoming students and new employees and ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns for students and employees that:

1. Identifies domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking as prohibited conduct.
2. Utilizes definitions provided both by the Department of Education as well as state law what behavior constitutes domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.
3. Defines what behavior and actions constitute consent to sexual activity in the State of Iowa in addition to using the definition of consent found in the Student Code of Conduct the purposes for which that definition is used.

4. Provides a description of safe and positive options for bystander intervention. Bystander intervention means safe and positive options that may be carried out by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking. Bystander intervention includes recognizing situations of potential harm, understanding institutional structures and cultural conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers to intervening, identifying safe and effective intervention options, and taking action to intervene.

5. Information on risk reduction. Risk reduction means options designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction, and to increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence.

7. Procedures victims should follow if a crime of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking occurs (as described in “Procedures Victims Should Follow if a Crime of Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault and Stalking Occurs” elsewhere in this document)

8. How the institution will protect the confidentiality of victims and other necessary parties (as described in “Assistance for Victims: Rights and Options” elsewhere in this document);

9. Existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available for victims, both within the institution and in the community (as described in “Assistance for Victims: Rights and Options” elsewhere in this document); and

10. Options for, available assistance in, and how to request changes to academic, living, transportation, and working situations or protective measures (as described in “Assistance for Victims: Rights and Options” elsewhere in this document);

11. Procedures for institutional disciplinary action in cases of alleged dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking (as described in “Adjudication of Violations” elsewhere in this document);

College & University Educational Programs

The University offers a multitude of educational programs for employees and students, both newly hired and current students and employees. Some description of the programming is below, however there are many other programs being offered throughout the year. Information about these programs and others can be found on the Ending Violence at Iowa website here: endingviolence.uiowa.edu/. For complete listings of all programs offered at the University of Iowa, visit the main website at: uiowa.edu.

Bystander Intervention

Develop the skills to be an effective and active bystander. University of Iowa presentations can be co-presented with the Women’s Resource and Action Center.

Affirmative Consent

Learn about affirmative consent practices in a sex positive framework through concrete examples of incorporating affirmative consent into real-life situations. The program shows examples of what consent is not, talks about the ways we’re socialized not to expect consent, and includes small group work on how to ask for consent.

Dismantling Rape Culture

Become familiar with the way in which our society both subtly and overtly supports sexual violence while providing participants a framework to challenge rape culture in their own lives. The session offers pop culture exemplifications of rape culture, discusses the repercussions of not challenging it, and offers small group work on how to challenge it using popular song lyrics and/or scenarios.

Queering Consent

Explore the history of consent practices in queer communities and the current landscape of consent in LGBT and queer spaces and relationships. The “#MeToo Movement in Higher Education: Legal, Governance, and Public Relations Considerations

While the national #MeToo Movement captured the nation’s attention with allegations of misconduct involving national figures and celebrities, the Movement has become more evident in higher education. The #MeToo hashtag chronicles stories of sexual misconduct that often arise in the context of imbalanced power dynamics among junior and senior faculty, graduate students and advisors, staff and supervisors, and other members of campus communities. Although institutions are well equipped to handle allegations of sexual misconduct, the #MeToo Movement presents unique legal issues, and college and university counsel and administrators must address these issues while navigating a challenging landscape of polarized politics, cultural shifts, and around-the-clock traditional and social media coverage.

Every Choice

The “Every Choice” program is one part of a larger course called Success at Iowa. Students receive two credit hours for completing the entire Success at Iowa course during their first semester at The University of Iowa. The “Every Choice” program is an interactive online program that is designed to help students protect themselves and others from sexual assault, harassment, stalking, and dating/domestic violence. The program also focuses on bystander intervention skills to help students feel empowered to speak up and intervene to prevent potentially violent situations from occurring.

Not Anymore

All incoming graduate and professional students are required to take “Not Anymore”, an online course which educates students on gender-based violence and discrimination and bystander intervention.

The Ontario Domestic Assault Risk Assessment (ODARA)

The Ontario Domestic Assault Risk Assessment (ODARA), a procedure to predict future assaults against intimate partners, was developed by the Ontario Provincial Police and the Ontario Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care in response to the May/Iles and Hadley inquest recommendations. It was also a result of recommendations by the Joint Committee on Domestic Violence to the Attorney General of Ontario in 1999. The ODARA is a single assessment that is available for use by police, victim services, health care, and correctional agencies. It is the first empirically tested and validated domestic violence risk assessment tool to assess risk of future wife assault, as well as the frequency and severity of these assaults.

How to be an Active Bystander

Bystanders play a critical role in the prevention of sexual and relationship violence. They are "individuals who observe violence or witness the conditions that perpetuate violence. They are not directly involved but have the choice to intervene, speak up, or do something about it."1 We want to promote a culture of community accountability where bystanders are actively engaged in the prevention of violence without causing further harm. We may not always know what to do even if we want to help. Below is a list2 of some ways to be an active bystander. Further information regarding bystander intervention may be found. If you or someone else is in immediate danger, dial 911. This could be when a person is yelling at or being physically abusive towards another and it is not safe for you to interrupt.

1. Watch out for your friends and fellow students/employees. If you see someone who looks like they could be in trouble or need help, ask if they are ok.
2. Confront people who seclude, hit on, try to make out with, or have sex with people who are incapacitated.
3. Speak up when someone discusses plans to take sexual advantage of another person.
4. Believe someone who discloses sexual assault, abusive behavior, or experience with stalking.
5. Refer people to on or off campus resources listed in this document for support in health, counseling, or with legal assistance.

Risk Reduction Strategies

With no intent to victim blame and recognizing that only abusers are responsible for their abuse, the following are some strategies to reduce one’s risk of sexual assault or harassment (taken from Rape, Burn, S.M. (2009). A situational model of sexual assault prevention through bystander intervention. Sex Roles, 60, 779-792.

1. Be aware of your surroundings. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way to get out of a bad situation.
2. Try to avoid isolated areas. It is more difficult to get help if no one is around.
3. Walk with purpose. Even if you don’t know where you are going, act like you do.
4. Trust your instincts. If a situation or location feels unsafe or uncomfortable, it probably isn’t the best place to be.
5. Try not to load yourself down with packages or bags as this can make you appear more vulnerable.
6. Make sure your cell phone is with you and charged and that you have cab money.
7. Don’t allow yourself to be isolated with someone you don’t trust or someone you don’t know.
8. Avoid putting music headphones in both ears so that you can be more aware of your surroundings, especially if you are walking alone.
9. When you go to a social gathering, go with a group of friends. Arrive together, check in with each other throughout the evening, and leave together. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way out of a bad situation.
10. Trust your instincts. If you feel unsafe in any situation, go with your gut. If you see something suspicious, contact law enforcement immediately (local authorities can be reached by calling 911 in most areas of the U.S.).

11. Don’t leave your drink unattended while talking, dancing, using the restroom, or making a phone call. If you’ve left your drink alone, just get a new one.
12. Don’t accept drinks from people you don’t know or trust. If you choose to accept a drink, go with the person to the bar to order it, watch it being poured, and carry it yourself. At parties, don’t drink from the punch bowls or other large, common open containers.
13. Watch out for your friends, and vice versa. If a friend seems out of it, is way too intoxicated for the amount of alcohol they’ve had, or is acting out of character, get him or her to a safe place immediately.
14. If you suspect you or a friend has been drugged, contact law enforcement immediately (local authorities can be reached by calling 911 in most areas of the U.S.). Be explicit with doctors so they can give you the correct tests (you will need a urine test and possibly others).
15. If you need to get out of an uncomfortable or scary situation there are some things that you can try:
   a. Remember that being in this situation is not your fault. You did not do anything wrong; it is the person who is making you uncomfortable that is to blame.
   b. Be true to yourself. Don’t feel obligated to do anything you don’t want to do. “I don’t want to” is always a good enough reason. Do what feels right to you and what you are comfortable with.
   c. Have a code word with your friends or family so that if you don’t feel comfortable you can call them and communicate your discomfort without the person you are with knowing. Your friends or family can then come to get you or make up an excuse for you to leave.
   d. Lie. If you don’t want to hurt the person’s feelings it is better to lie and make up a reason to leave than to stay and be uncomfortable, scared, or worse. Some excuses you could use are: needing to take care of a friend or family member, not feeling well, having somewhere else that you need to be, etc.
16. Try to think of an escape route. How would you try to get out of the room? Where are the doors? Windows? Are there people around who might be able to help you? Is there an emergency phone nearby?
17. If you and/or the other person have been drinking, you can say that you would rather wait until you both have your full judgment before doing anything you may regret later.

Notification to Victims of Crimes of Violence

The University will, upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence, or a non-forcible sex offense, the report on the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by such institution against a student who is the alleged perpetrator of such crime or offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as the result of such crime or offense, the next of kin of such victim shall be treated as the alleged victim for purposes of this paragraph.

Crime Statistics

Procedure for Preparing the Annual Crime Statistics for the Main Campus in Iowa City

While the proper channel for reporting crime is direct communication with a law enforcement agency such as the UI Department of Public Safety, certain University officials affiliated with non-police departments can also receive reports of crime. The officials and offices that receive information about crimes and from whom the University gathers campus crime data includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- UI Department of Public Safety – Police Division
- The Office of the Dean of Students
- Equity Investigations Unit, Office of Institutional Equity
- Title IX and Gender Equity, Office of Institutional Equity
- UIHC Safety and Security
- Campus Security Authorities, as defined by federal law

In addition to the offices and/or persons above, the Iowa City Police Department, the Coralville Police Department, the University Heights Police Department, North Liberty Police, the Johnson County Sheriff’s Office, and other law enforcement agencies with jurisdiction over properties owned or controlled by the institution provide information about crimes in Iowa City included in the annual crime statistics.

University Counseling Service (UCS), Faculty and Staff Services/Employee Assistance Program (EAP), Rape Victim Advocacy Program (RVAP), and Women’s Resource and Action Center (WRAC) provide confidential counseling and inform their clients of the procedures to report crime to the UI Department of Public Safety on an anonymous or voluntary confidential basis, should they feel it is in the best interest of the client. A procedure is in place to anonymously capture crime statistics disclosed confidentially during such a session.

Each year, an e-mail notification is made to all faculty, staff and enrolled students that provides the web site to access this report. Copies of the report may also be obtained at the UI Department of Public Safety headquarters located at 808 University Capitol Centre or by calling (319) 335-5022.

Not All Law Enforcement Agencies Responded

It is important to note that the University sent requests for statistics to hundreds of agencies around the world, however not all of them responded. In preparing this report the University made a “good faith effort” to contact these agencies.

Unclassified Incidents

The Department of Public Safety was unable to classify some incidents that were reported as “sexual assaults” or other crimes due to insufficient detail to determine if they involved rape or fondling, or whether the offense occurred in a location covered by the Clery Act, or both. The University obtained guidance from the U.S. Department of Education that if the University does not receive sufficient details regarding an incident, it will not be able to appropriately classify the incident and therefore, will not be expected to include the incident in the statistics.

Procedure for Preparing the Annual Crime Statistics for the Tippie College of Business Cedar Rapids Center in Cedar Rapids

In addition to the offices above, the Cedar Rapids Police Department provides information about crimes at the Tippie College of Business Cedar Rapids Center and are included in the annual crime statistics.

Procedure for Preparing the Annual Crime Statistics for the Birchwood Fields Learning Center in Davenport

In addition to the offices above, the Davenport Police Department provides information about crimes at the Tippie College of Business Cedar Rapids Center and are included in the annual crime statistics.

Procedure for Preparing the Annual Crime Statistics for the John and Mary Pappajohn Education Center in Des Moines

In addition to the offices above, the Des Moines Police Department provides information about crimes at the John and Mary Pappajohn Education Center and are included in the annual crime statistics.

Procedure for Preparing the Annual Crime Statistics for the Lakeside Lab: Regents Resource Center at Lake Okoboji

In addition to the offices above, the Dickinson County Sheriff’s Office provides information about crimes at the Lakeside Lab Lake Okoboji and are included in the annual crime statistics.

[1] Parklund was reactivated in August of 2022. In 2020 and 2021 it was not occupied.
The Daily Fire Log

The daily fire log is available to the public on the UI Department of Public Safety's website at police.uiowa.edu/records/residential-unit-fire-log.

Regular Mandatory Supervised Fire Drills

Beginning with the 2022-2023 academic year, fire drill procedures have shifted to be in alignment with state fire code. Four fire drills are conducted each academic year per student residence hall. The first fire drill for each academic year is conducted within the first 10 days of school, which is observed by the UI Department of Public Safety and the Iowa City Fire Department. The second is conducted shortly after the winter break by the RAs and professional staff only. The 3rd and 4th fire drills are conducted by professional residence hall staff and resident assistants during the academic year.

Policies Regarding Appliances, Combustibles, and Open Flame

Cooking Appliances

To keep the residence halls as safe as possible, the types of appliances that are allowed for cooking are limited. Only those appliances that do not:

- Have an exposed heating element.
- Use cooking greases.
- Or have an open flame are allowed. We also highly recommend using appliances that have an auto shut-off feature.
- Electric grills (i.e., George Foreman), pizza cookers, and toaster ovens are NOT allowed. Residence hall rooms with a kitchen provided (Mayflower) may use toaster ovens in the kitchen area only.

Electrical Appliances

All appliances must be in good working order. Do not overload electrical outlets with adapters or extension cords. All extension cords must be UL approved. Rooms are not wired to permit the use of any large electrical appliances including room air conditioners (unless supplied by the University), large refrigerators (over five cubic feet or drawing more than 9 amps), space heaters, etc. Halogen lamps are also prohibited. For safety reasons, we recommend using only appliances with an auto shut-off feature.

Explosives and Or Combustibles

The possession, use or distribution of any type of fireworks, ammunition/gun powder, fuses, or any explosives/combustibles of any kind is prohibited and will result in disciplinary action. Propane tanks may not be stored in residence halls.

Halogen Lamps/Bulbs

Halogen lamps/bulbs are considered a fire hazard and therefore are prohibited in the residence halls.

Open Flame

Incense, candles (lit or unlit), and any open-flame items are fire hazards and are therefore prohibited. Any incense or candles found may be confiscated, destroyed and disciplinary sanctions may be imposed. Storage of these items is prohibited; residence life staff will not store these items for you.

Smoking

The University of Iowa Residence Halls are substance-free environments. Therefore, the use of tobacco, including smokeless tobacco products, and legal smoking products are prohibited in residence hall student rooms and in public areas. Public areas include hallways, stairways, elevators, lobbies, lounges, restrooms, etc. Students over 18 years of age may possess and are allowed to store tobacco and legal smoking products but may not use them in the halls. Under the Smoke Free Air Act, smoking is banned on the entire University of Iowa campus.

Special Smoke Detector Response Procedures in Residence Halls

In residence halls with resident assistants and other hall staff, smoke detectors monitor for the presence of fire or smoke in interior sleeping rooms. In the event of an activation of a single smoke detector, trained residence hall staff respond to check the room prior to a full building fire alarm. In the event of heavy smoke or fire, the staff will activate the building’s fire alarm causing a full evacuation of the building. These are pre-alarm response procedures to minimize full building evacuations only in the event of an actual fire.

Evacuation Procedures in Residence Halls

University Housing staff provides residents with fire evacuation procedures and will hold fire drills to prepare residents in case of a fire.

If you discover a fire:

- Immediately pull the corridor fire alarm.
- Call 911 to report the fire and give as much information as possible.
- The fire alarm will alert people to evacuate the building; do not attempt to rescue others unless you can do so safely.
- Standards of student behavior in the residence halls require students to follow adopted emergency procedures specific to University Housing. Any persons found not leaving or attempting to re-enter the building during an alarm may face disciplinary charges.

Evacuation from fire area for students and employees:

- Feel the door from top to bottom. If it is hot, do not proceed; go back.
- If the door is cool, crouch low and open the door slowly. Close the door quickly if smoke is present; smoke inhalation can be deadly.
- If the area is smoke-free, exit via the nearest stairwell. Stay low if smoke conditions exist.
- NEVER USE ELEVATORS when there is a fire!
- If you encounter heavy smoke in a stairwell, go back and try another stairwell or fire escape.
- If you are trapped in a room, do the following:
  - Stuff wet towels or clothing under the door to keep smoke out.
  - Open the windows. Wave something out the window to attract attention, and yell for help.
  - If possible, dial 911; report your situation and location.
  - Keep a soaked towel over your head.
  - Stay low; breathe fresh air near the windows.

Fire Procedures for University Housing Other than Residence Halls

Fire can completely engulf an apartment in mere seconds, causing tragic loss and even death. Living arrangements can provide numerous combustible materials which will fuel fires greatly (e.g. furnishings, etc.) You should always have an evacuation plan for you and the people living with you if a fire does occur.

In the event of an actual fire, follow these procedures:
1. Evacuate the building immediately. Do not attempt to rescue others or gather belongings. Fires can spread in seconds.
2. Call 911; give as much information as possible.
3. Notify your neighbors if possible.
4. Stand as far away from the building as possible. Flying debris and fumes from the fire can be very dangerous.
5. If inside a bedroom in your apartment, feel bedroom door from top to bottom. If it is hot, do not proceed; go back.
6. If door is cool, crouch down and open door slowly. If you open the door and smoke is present, close it quickly so you don’t inhale it.
7. If no smoke is present, exit through the front door. If smoke is present, stay low and proceed with caution—avoid inhaling smoke.
8. If trapped in an apartment, do the following:
   a) Stuff wet towels or clothing under the door to keep smoke out.
   b) Open windows. Wave something out a window and yell for help.
   c) If possible, dial 911 and report your situation and location.
   d) Keep a soaked towel over your head.
   e) Stay low and breathe fresh air near the window.

Fire Safety Education and Training Programs

Before the school year Resident Assistants receive training in fire response. Resident Assistants are trained on the importance of treating all fire alarms as active fire situations, are trained on the evacuation procedures of the residence halls, given basic information on fire prevention (including information on how students can safely cook in microwaves, the importance of emphasizing students’ close doors behind them during fire alarm activations, and expectations about the usage of fire extinguishers), and are trained on how to conduct evacuations during any fire alarms. The training includes specific training on how to respond to alarms or trouble notifications at the front desk, provided by UH&D fire systems technicians.

When requested, the UI Department of Public Safety will provide fire extinguisher training and fire safety presentations to any campus group or organization.

Reporting Fires

Fires should be reported to the following departments:

- UI Department of Public Safety  (319) 335-5022
- Iowa City Fire Department  (319) 356-5255

If a member of the University of Iowa community finds evidence of a fire that has been extinguished, and the person is not sure whether UI Department of Public Safety has already responded, the community member should immediately notify UI Department of Public Safety to investigate and document the incident.

Plans for Future Improvements in Fire Safety

Regardless of the size of the residential facility, all meet the requirements of the state’s adopted fire code. At this time, there are no current improvements planned for fire safety.

The Daily Fire Log

The daily fire log is available to the public on the UI Department of Public Safety's website at police.uiowa.edu/records/residential-unit-fire-log.

Regular Mandatory Supervised Fire Drills

Regardless of the time of year, when housing units on the campus are occupied by students, fire drills are conducted in accordance with the state's fire code in those housing units.

Policies Regarding Appliances, Combustibles, and Open Flame

Cooking Appliances

Cooking is only allowed in the Faculty Duplex, Main Cottage, and Rierson Cottage where residential style kitchens are provided. Cooking is prohibited in all other facilities used to house students or visitors.

Electrical Appliances

All appliances used in a housing facility / unit must be in good working order. Do not overload electrical outlets with adapters or extension cords. Rooms are not wired to permit the use of any large electrical appliances.

Explosives and Or Combustibles

The possession, use or distribution of any type of fireworks, ammunition/gun powder, fuses, or any explosives/combustibles of any kind is prohibited and will result in disciplinary action. Propane tanks may not be stored inside a housing facility.

Open Flame

Incense, candles (lit or unlit), and any open-flame items are fire hazards and are therefore prohibited.

Smoking

Smoking is prohibited throughout all facilities at the Lakeside Laboratories.

Evacuation Procedures for Housing Facilities

Each room where students or visitors sleep has fire evacuation procedures posted in accordance with the state fire code and hotel / motel laws.

In the event of an actual fire, follow these procedures:

1. When your smoke alarm sounds or a fire is discovered, evacuate the facility / unit immediately. Don't attempt to rescue others or gather belongings. Fires can spread in seconds and even lead to deadly explosions.

   a. Before leaving the room, feel the door from top to bottom. If it is hot, do not proceed out of the room. Egress can be through a window in the room; you're no more than 6 feet above the ground.

   b. If you open the door and smoke is present, close it quickly, and do not proceed; go back into the room. Egress can be through a window in the room; you're no more than 6 feet above the ground.
c. If no smoke is present, exit through the room and out of the facility. If light smoke is present, stay low and proceed with caution—avoid inhaling smoke.

2. Once you are safely outside the building, call 911; give as much information as possible.

3. Notify your neighbors if possible.

4. Stand as far away from the building as possible. Flying debris and fumes from the fire can be very dangerous.

Fire Safety Education and Training Programs

When requested, University of Iowa Public Safety will provide fire extinguisher training and fire safety presentations to any campus group or organization.

Reporting Fires

Fires should be reported to the following agencies:

- Lakeside Laboratories Facility Manager
  (712) 260-1474
- Milford Fire Department
  (712) 336-2525

If a member of the campus community finds evidence of a fire that has occurred inside a building and has been extinguished, and the person is not sure whether the local authorities has already responded, the community member should immediately notify UI Department of Public Safety (319) 335-5022 to investigate and document the incident.

Plans for Future Improvements in Fire Safety

With inspections conducted by UI Department of Public Safety, improvements to fire safety issues continue to be a priority on this campus.

2. Note that the Iowa Supreme Court has determined that the minimum fines set out for violations of § 124.401(1) may be suspended or deferred under chapter 907 of the Iowa Code. State v. Grey, 514 N.W.2d 748 (Iowa 1994).

3. This is the accommodation offense. It only includes delivery and possession with intent to deliver less than or equal to 1/2 ounce of marijuana, which was not offered for sale. Manufacturing marijuana is not included. An offender under this subsection is sentenced as if convicted of § 124.401(5) possession of marijuana.

4. Delivered judgments, deferred sentences, and suspended sentences are NOT available in these instances when the substance is methamphetamine. Iowa Code § 997.303, (2) & (3).

5. If first offense for methamphetamine or methamphetamine, then sentence may be suspended and defendant ordered to drug court or community based corrections for 1 year or until maximum benefit. §124.401E

7. Examples of Schedule IV and V controlled substances include phenoxybutal, Tylenol with codeine, meperphanale, Valium and phendrine.

AGGREGATION OF WEIGHTS Iowa Code § 124.401(2)—If the same person commits 2 or more acts which are in violation of § 124.401(1) and the acts occur in approximately the same location or time period so that the acts can be attributed to a single scheme, plan or conspiracy, the acts may be considered a single violation and the weight of the controlled substances involved may be combined for purposes of charging the offender and enhancing the criminal penalties. This is done at the discretion of the prosecutor. State v. Robinson, 506 N.W.2d 769 (Iowa 1993).

FIREARM AND OFFENSIVE WEAPON ENHANCEMENT Iowa Code § 124.401(1)(e) and (d)—If in the immediate possession of a firearm while participating in a violation of § 124.401(1), the penalty shall be 2 times the term otherwise imposed or granted. If in the immediate possession or control of an offensive weapon while participating in a violation of § 124.401(1), the penalty shall be 3 times the term imposed by law. A judgment or sentence under the firearm or offensive weapon enhancement cannot be deferred or suspended. State v. Goodson, 503 N.W.2d 395 (Iowa 1993).

SCHOOL OR PUBLIC RECREATION ZONE ENHANCEMENT Iowa Code § 124.401A and § 124.401B—If convicted of distributing or possessing with the intent to distribute a Schedule I, II, or III controlled substance (includes both a counterfeit and a simulated controlled substance) to a person greater than or equal to 18 years, and the offense is within 1000 feet of a public or private elementary or secondary school, public park, public swimming pool, public recreation center, or on a marked school bus, then the offender may be sentenced to an additional term of 5 years (§ 124.401A). If convicted of possessing a Schedule I, II, or III controlled substance (includes a simulated controlled substance, but the "counterfeit substance" language was omitted from the statute) and the offense is within 1000 feet of a public or private elementary or secondary school, public park, public swimming pool, public recreation center, or on a marked school bus, then the offender may be sentenced to an additional penalty of 100 hours of community service work for a public agency or a nonprofit charitable organization (§ 124.401B).

MANUFACTURING OR DELIVERY OF AMPHETAMINE OR METHAMPHETAMINE TO A MINOR Iowa Code § 124.401D--If someone greater than or equal to 18 years delivers, possesses with the intent to deliver, conspires to deliver or possess with intent to deliver, or conspires to manufacture methamphetamine for delivery to someone < 18 years: 1st offense – 99 years. 2nd or subsequent offense – Class "A" felony (life imprisonment). § 902.9(1)(a). If 1st offense, then not eligible for parole until a minimum of 10 years served. § 902.8A.

TAMPERING WITH POSSESSING OR TRANSPORTING ANHYDROUS AMMONIA Iowa Code § 124.401F--It is a serious misdemeanor to tamper with anhydrous ammonia equipment, or to possess or transport anhydrous ammonia in a container not approved by the secretary of agriculture. A civil penalty of not more than $1500 may also be imposed.

SECOND OR SUBSEQUENT OFFENSES Iowa Code § 124.411(1).--If previously convicted of any state or federal drug statute, and subsequently convicted under Chapter 124, that person may be imprisoned for a period not to exceed 3 times the term otherwise authorized, or that person may be fined not more than 3 times the amount otherwise authorized, or both. The enhancement may be less than the triple amount and it also multiplies any other enhancements (such as the firearm enhancement) that may be imposed. State v. Rogers, 560 N.W.2d 585 (Iowa 1997). Does not apply to violations of § 124.401(5).

MANDATORY MINIMUM SENTENCE Iowa Code § 124.413 (in reality a limitation on eligibility for parole and work release)--A person sentenced pursuant to § 124.401(1)(a), (b), (e) or (f), shall not be eligible for parole or work release until the person has served a minimum period of confinement of one-third of the maximum indeterminate sentence prescribed by law. This provision does not apply to marijuana. Schedule IV or V controlled substances under § 124.401(1)(d). If this is a first offense under § 124.413, the court may, at its discretion, sentence the person to a term less than provided for by statute if mitigating circumstances exist and those circumstances are stated specifically on the record. (See § 901.10.) Probation is still a possibility. State v. Farley, 351 N.W.2d 537 (Iowa 1989); State v. Draper, 457 N.W.2d 600 (Iowa 1990); Kimchalk v. State, 494 N.W.2d 698 (Iowa 1993). If the conviction is under § 124.401(1)(b) or (c), the court may further lower the minimum eligibility for parole or work release from one-half of the minimum to the full 1/3 minimum to serve of the maximum sentence. Iowa Code 124.413(3).

PERSONS SEEKING MEDICAL ASSISTANCE Iowa Code §124.418. Provides protection for use of information derived from report by person’s good faith reporting drug overdose to seek medical attention for another subject to conditions and not applicable to deliver charges unless delivery to victim was sharing of drugs without profit.

RESTRICTION ON THE REDUCTION OF A MANDATORY MINIMUM SENTENCE Iowa Code § 901.10(2).--A person convicted of an amphetamine or a methamphetamine offense under § 124.401(1)(a) or (b), i.e., greater than 5 grams, is not eligible for a reduction of the mandatory minimum period of confinement imposed pursuant to § 124.413, unless the person pleads guilty, and then, the mandatory minimum may only be reduced by a maximum of one-third. In addition, if the defendant cooperates with the prosecution of others AND the prosecutor recommends it, the court may reduce the remaining mandatory minimum sentence by up to one-half. If the violation is for § 124.401D, the same applies, but there is apparently no "one half" limit on reduction if the prosecutor requests further reduction.

RECONSIDERATION OF FELONY SENTENCE Iowa Code § 902.4--The District Court retains jurisdiction for a period of ninety (90) days to reconsider a felon's sentence (other than a Class A felony or for which a mandatory minimum is imposed). The Court shall not disclose its decision to reconsider or not to reconsider until the date reconsideration is ordered, or the 90 day period for reconsideration is past. If an individual is sentenced for a violation of § 124.401 and § 124.413, he would not be eligible for reconsideration. State v. Forrester, 571 N.W.2d 20 (Iowa 1997). However, if it is a first offense and the mandatory minimum is not imposed (see above), then the Court may reconsider.

REOPENING OF 99 YEAR SENTENCE Iowa Code § 501.5A.--The Court may reopen a 99 year sentence if the prosecutor requests it and the Court finds that the defendant cooperated in the prosecution of others. Any reduction in sentence is based on § 901.10(3). Reopening of the sentence does NOT toll or stay any other proceedings or time deadlines.

COMMITMENT FOR TREATMENT Iowa Code § 124.409--When someone is charged under §124.401 and they consent thereto, or upon a conviction of §124.401, the Court may find that someone is addicted to, dependent upon, or a chronic abuser of controlled substances, and the Court may order commitment for treatment and rehabilitation. If successful at rehabilitation, the Court may remit all or part of the sentence and place the individual on probation.

POSSESSION OF CERTAIN SUBSTANCES WITH INTENT TO MANUFACTURE Iowa Code § 124.401(4).--It is a Class "D" felony to possess the following with the intent to manufacture a controlled substance: ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, ethyl ether, anhydrous ammonia, red phosphorous, lithium, iodine, thionyl chloride, chloroform, palladium, perchloric acid, tetrahydrofuran, ammonium chloride and magnesium sulfate.
Possession of a Controlled Substance Iowa Code § 124.401(5)—A first offense conviction for possession of any controlled substance (except marijuana) is a serious misdemeanor with a fine of at least $250, but not more than $1,500; in addition, the court may order imprisonment up to one year. Maximum penalty for a first offense conviction for possession of marijuana is imprisonment for 6 months and/or a $1,000 fine. All or part of the sentence may be suspended and the person placed on probation, with conditions that may include participation in a drug treatment, rehabilitation or education program. If first offense, sentence may be deferred. (See § 124.409.) For second and subsequent offenses, see chart on previous page. Aggravated misdemeanors are punishable by a fine of at least $500, but not more than $5,000; in addition, the court may order imprisonment up to two years. A Class "D" Felony is punishable by an indeterminate term of imprisonment of not more than 5 years, and in addition, is punishable by a fine of at least $500, but not more than $7,500.

Drug Paraphernalia Iowa Code § 124.414—It is a simple misdemeanor for any person to knowingly or intentionally manufacture, deliver, sell, or possess drug paraphernalia. Drug paraphernalia is defined as all equipment, products, or materials of any kind used or attempted to be used in combination with a controlled substance, to knowingly and intentionally and primarily:
1. manufacture a controlled substance;
2. inject, ingest, inhale, or otherwise introduce into the human body a controlled substance;
3. test the strength, effectiveness, or purity of a controlled substance;
4. enhance the effect of a controlled substance. There is an exception for items used with lawful controlled substances and hypodermic needles or syringes used for a lawful purpose.

Distribution to Minors Iowa Code § 124.406

If someone greater than or equal to 18 years distributes or possesses with the intent to distribute a Schedule I or II controlled substance to someone less than 18 years, the offense is a Class "B" Felony and the person shall serve a minimum 5 years. If it is a counterfeit or a simulated controlled substance, then no minimum 5 years. However, if the offense occurs within a school or a public recreation zone, and it is a controlled substance (but not a counterfeit or simulated controlled substance) then the person shall serve a minimum 10 years if it is a controlled substance.

1. If someone greater than or equal to 18 years distributes or possesses with the intent to distribute a Schedule III controlled substance (includes a counterfeit or a simulated controlled substance) to someone less than 18 years and there is greater than or equal to 3 years difference, the offense is a Class "C" Felony.
2. If someone greater than or equal to 18 years distributes a Schedule IV or V controlled substance (includes a counterfeit or a simulated controlled substance) to someone less than 18 years and there is greater than or equal to 3 years difference, the offense is an Aggravated Misdemeanor.
3. If someone delivers a controlled substance to another in order to act with, enter into a common scheme or design with, conspire with, or recruit that other person to deliver any Schedule I, II, III, IV, or V controlled substance to someone less than 18 years, the offense is a Class "D" Felony.
4. A court sentencing a person for the first time under § 124.406 may, at its discretion, sentence the person to a term less than provided for by statute if mitigating circumstances exist and those circumstances are stated specifically on the record. (See § 901.10.)

Recruitment of Minors Iowa Code § 124.406A—If someone greater than or equal to 18 years conspires with or recruits someone less than 18 years to deliver or manufacture Schedule I through IV controlled substance, the offense is a Class "C" Felony.

Gatherings Where Controlled Substances Unlawfully Used Iowa Code § 124.407—It is unlawful for any person to sponsor, promote or aid, or assist in a meeting, gathering, or assemblage with the knowledge or intent that a controlled substance be distributed, used or possessed there. If it is anything other than marijuana, it is a Class "D" Felony. If it is marijuana, it is a Serious Misdemeanor. Injunctions may also be issued.

Date Rape Drug Penalties Iowa Code § 709.4(c)(2)—It is Sex Abuse in the Third Degree (a Class "C" Felony) when an individual performs a sex act on a person who is under the influence of a controlled substance, including flunitrazepam (Rohypnol), and 1) the controlled substance prevents the victim from consenting, and 2) the accused knows or should reasonably know that the victim is under the influence of the controlled substance.

Hemp Exclusion Iowa Code 124.401H—A person shall not be convicted of section 124.401 or 124.410 involving hemp if the person has a valid hemp license under Chapter 204 the hemp is produced on licensed site and hemp does not exceed THC concentration set under that 125.401H.
DENIAL OF FEDERAL AND STATE BENEFITS Iowa Code § 901.5(11)—The Court shall consider 21 U.S.C.A. § 862 (see below), and may order the denial of federal benefits, such as school loans, grants, contracts, professional or commercial licenses. Does not include retirement, welfare, Social Security, health, disability, veterans benefits, public housing, or similar benefits. For any violation of Chapter 124, the Court shall consider the denial of state benefits and may order their denial comparable to the federal benefits. Iowa Code § 901.5(12).
